Every improvement in communication has been an answer to some definite social need and has brought about profound social changes. Early man discarded his animal-like cries of communication when drums, fire, and rude cave paintings better served his growing need to communicate with other men. Hieroglyphics and cuneiform writing represented a further improvement and formed the basis for the various alphabets used in the development of language.

Printing multiplied the message of one man for thousands of eager minds and preserved the knowledge of the hand-written books for the centuries yet unborn. Within a few years after the application of electricity to communication, all important centers of civilization were in instant communication with each other by the telegraph. Photography gave the true appearance of things which distant readers might never see at first hand. Sound recording and the motion pictures formed a medium of mass communication of incalculable influence for it increased enormously the conveying of information and the depiction of emotions. The combination of radio and television has opened realms of communication to man which can lead to the ennoblement of the human spirit or the degradation of the mind.

Communication of Thought Through the Ages

From the obscurity and haze of Paleolithic times, man has had seething in his soul the fierce desire to express his inmost feelings and thoughts. The feeling that to have the power of language is to have control over things and men is deeply imbedded in the human mind. Men gifted in speech and writing are feared and admired. Speech and writing are the vehicles of order and those who command them are regarded as having superior insight into the necessary relationship of things.

As myth gave way to philosophy, the tendency to see a principle of divinity in language became predominant. In the late ancient world the Hebrew "membra" and the Greek "logos" merged and speech becomes the principle of intelligibility. The Old and New Testament represent the full flowering of man's communication with God and establishment of the Christian ideal. "The Word was made flesh and dwelt amongst us." Those who accept the Word acquire wisdom and at the same time some identification with the eternal, usually figured as everlasting life.

Everything that is spoken or written on the globe in the course of ages must be thought of as a vast soliloquy spoken by the human mind, which unfolds itself in millions of persons and characters, and comes to itself again in their reunion. Much has been said and written which has lowered man and made him lose contact with God, culture and reason. Many more words have lifted man above himself and presented new vistas of wisdom, culture, peace and holiness. Moses, Plato, Aristotle, St. Paul, St. Augustine laid the cultural and religious foundation of the world which we call Western civilization. Alcuin, Aquinas, Bacon and Vives matured it further. Leo XIII, Pius XI, Maritain, Gilson, Claudel deLubac and Pius XII have presented it to the modern world in a way which cannot be escaped or imitated in its clarity, scholarship and integrity. To these great thinkers and writers the faculty and students of Stepinac wish to pay their meed of gratitude for the wisdom on which our lives are built and we dare to hope that someone amongst us will have the learning, integrity and holiness to continue in their tradition.

OUR FOUNDER

"For this is your wisdom, and understanding in the sight of nations, that leaving all these precepts, they may say: Behold a wise and understanding people, a great nation. Keep thyself therefore, and thy soul carefully. Forget not the words that thy eyes have seen and let them not go out of thy heart all the days of thy life. Thou shalt teach them to thy sons and thy grandsons."

Deuteronomy IV, 6.9

Moses occupies a unique position in history, religion and literature. Historically he represented for the Jews their voice of protest against the tyranny of the Pharaoh and their leader in the exodus to the Promised Land. For the Christian world he was the recipient of the first full-fledged revelation from God of the precepts and desires which man must follow in his return to God. The world of literature is deeply indebted to the form and content of the Bible of which the Pentateuch forms the solid foundation.

"For we are not speaking of education in this sense of the word, but of that other education in virtue from youth upwards, which makes a man eagerly pursue the ideal perfection of citizenship, and teaches him how rightly to rule and how to obey. This is the only training which, upon our view, would be characterized as education; that other sort of training, which aims at the acquisition of wealth or bodily strength, or more cleverness apart from intelligence and justice, is mean and illiberal, and is not worthy to be called education at all."

The writings of Plato were a strident protest against ignorance and corruption. They touch every phase of the thought of his time and constitute an imposing compendium of Greek learning and culture. Here was a philosopher who wrote for the man in the street, in language he could understand, and in a form as lively and compelling as the gusty bouts of conversation which were a daily occurrence on the streets of Athens. He brought the heights of Greek philosophy and thought down to the common man.

Carl Michael Albano

Mount Vernon, New York

St. Ursula

Business Club 4; Class Officer 1; Varsity Football 4; Scientific Society 1.

Carl's favorite sport was football, and a lifelong ambition was realized by playing varsity football for two years at Stepinac. Following in the footsteps of his Dad, he hopes to become a doctor.

John Philip Alterio

Peekskill, New York

Assumption

Shepherd 4; Bowling Team 4; Italian Club 3; K. B. S. 1, 2, 3, 4; Senior Bulletin 4.

John was a valuable member of the Senior Bulletin and the Shepherd staff. He found business subjects to his liking and this should help him in his future endeavors as a business man.

Richard John Andres

White Plains, New York

St. Bernard

Shepherd 4; Altar Boy 1, 2, 3, 4; Chess Club 4; Crusader 3, Editor 4; K.B.S. 1, 2, 3, 4; Math Club 4; Senior Bulletin 4; J.V. Tennis 2, 3; Varsity Tennis 4; Ushers 4; Honor Roll 1, 2, 3, 4.

Dick's tennis style may need improving but his answers in class were usually aces. His enjoyment of math should aid him some day in his ambition to teach it. Holy Cross will gain not only a fine student but a good piano player.

Leonard Robert Bauer

Yonkers, New York

Sacred Heart

Business Club 3; K. B. S. 4; Spanish Club 3.

Len, who came to Stepinac in his sophomore year, can be seen tinkering with a car unless worrying over homework assignments. His amiable personality and humor will help him in his future plans.

Anthony Dominic Bellantoni

Port Chester, New York

Our Lady of Mercy

Class Basketball 1, 2, 3, 4; Freshman Basketball; Cheerleaders 1; J.V. Football 1; Glee Club 4; Honor Roll 1; Italian Club 3.

Tony, well liked by all his classmates, enjoyed golf in his spare time as well as practicing for his favorite class—Auto Driving. He hopes to become an engineer after serving Uncle Sam in the Air Force.

Lawrence Anthony Bengert

Briarcliff Manor, New York

St. Theresa

Band 1, 2, 3, 4; Glee Club 4; McClosky Volunteers 2; Orchestra 4.

Tony enjoyed the relaxation of the band for four years and loved to escape the trials of Spanish by any subterfuge. He hopes to go to college and eventually will find his way into the business world.

Anthony Joseph Berardis

Yonkers, New York

St. Ann

Class Basketball 1, 2, 3, 4; Mission Crusade 1, 2, 3; Social Orchestra 3.

Tony's ability in Physics and Mechanical Drawing should help him achieve his ambition to be an Electrical Engineer. Manhattan College will find him a well rounded student.

"Stuffing the Ballot Box"

Philip James Bergan

Scarsdale, New York

Immaculate Heart of Mary

Shepherd 4; Crusader 4; Dramatics 1, 2, 3, 4; Ushers 3, 4.

One of the outstanding students in the school, Phil's interests center around the many literary outlets sponsored by the school. However, he will be best remembered for his characterizations in the dramatic presentations as Nordraad, the poet in "Song of Norway" and Count Hugo Detleff, the fun-loving student in the "Student Prince." Versatile Phil will expand his talents in the future at Holy Cross.

Roger Laurent Bernardi

White Plains, New York

Our Lady of Mount Carmel

Altar Boy 1; Band 1, 2, 3, 4; Chemistry Club 4; German Club 1, 2, 3; Glee Club 4; K. B. S. 3; Orchestra 4; Science Club 2; Social Orchestra 2, 3, 4; Ushers 4.

A mainstay of the band, Roger's trumpet playing was a pleasure to Fr. McGann's ears. Notre Dame will be the recipient of one future scientist.

Franklin Walter Bohlen

Dobbs Ferry, New York

Sacred Heart

Band 1, 2, 3, 4; Bowling Club 1, 2, 3, 4; Chemistry Club 4; German Club 3; Glee Club 4; Honor Roll 2; K. B. S. 2, 3, 4; Legionaires 2, 3, 4; Orchestra 1, 2, 3, 4; Radio and Electronics Club 1, 2; Stage Crew 2, 3, 4; Student Council 3, 4; Ushers 4.

Frank, a licensed radio ham, was successful in all he endeavored. South Bend, Indiana will be the home of his next radio station.

Roger Salvatore Borrello

Mount Vernon, New York

Sts. Peter and Paul

Class Basketball 2; Class Officer 2; Glee Club 4.

Roger possessed one of the keenest wits of the class of '56. Scholastically, he preferred science as a preparation for his planned medical career. His amusing talent will undoubtedly enliven the halls of Fordham.

Paul John Bott

White Plains, New York

St. Bernard

Altar Boy 1; Chemistry Club 4; Class Basketball 1, 2, 3; German Club 1, 2, 3; Glee Club 4; Honor Roll 4; Track 1.

Religion class was a welcome antidote to the poisons of Math. Familiar on the Intra-mural scene, Paul plans to develop his basketball ability at Fordham.

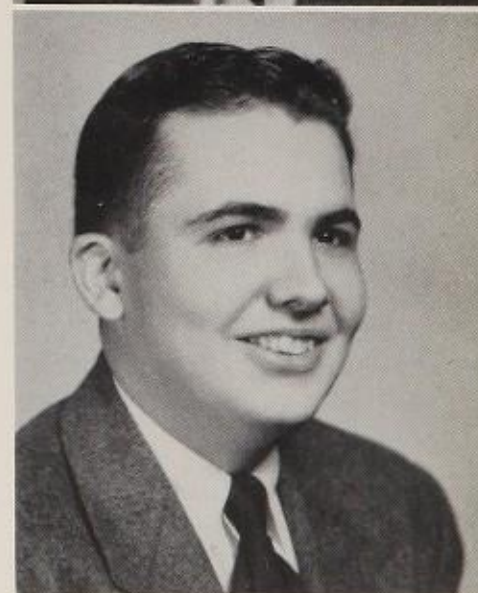

Andre Gerard Bouchard

Mamaroneck, New York

Most Holy Trinity

Glee Club 4; K. B. S. 1, 2, 3, 4; Legionaires 2, 4; Library Club 4; Spanish 2, 3, 4.

"Booch" found the main avenue of escape from the rigors of Latin and Spanish in reading. The spiritual activities of the K. B. S. and the Legionaires occupied most of his extra-curricular time.

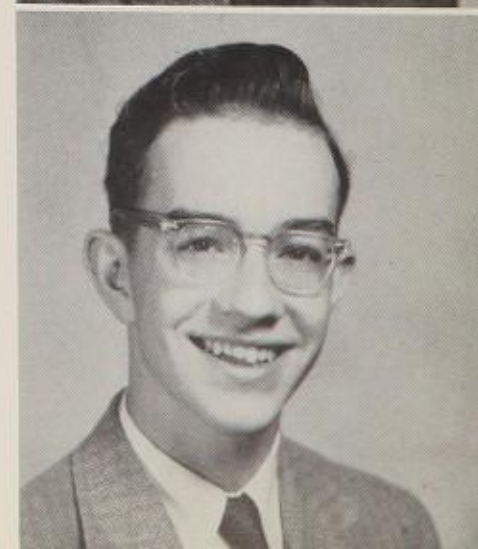

Thomas Michael Brady

White Plains, New York

Our Lady of Mount Carmel

Math Club 4; Science Club 4; Track 2; Ushers 4.

Tom was Stepinac's foremost chess whiz and a stellar German student. Although his choice of college is not definite, he plans to become an engineer.

"Fairfield Lynching Party"

Michael John Brennan

Tuckahoe, New York

Immaculate Conception

Class Officer 1, 2, 4; Senior Senate

Mike's pleasing personality has made him a well liked student in the eyes of his classmates. His future will revolve around Westchester Community College and then a career in drafting.

Peter Joseph Brennan

Mount Vernon, New York

St. Ursula

Band 1, 2.

"Pedro's" interest in music and history will help him pass the time in the Navy.

Michael Joseph Brienza

Mount Vernon, New York

St. Ursula

Chemistry Club 4; Honor 1, 3, 4; K.B.S. 2, 3, 4; Radio and Electronics 1, 2, 3; Scientific Society 3, 4.

One of Stepinac's foremost math students and an amateur radio devotee, Mike has added to the scholastic rating of Stepinac. His diminutive stature was compensated by his gigantic ambition to visit the moon after a course in electrical or research engineering.

Michael Andrew Brown

Greenwich, Connecticut

Business Club 4; Crusader 1, 2, 3; K.B.S. 1, 2, 3, 4; Legionaires 2; Track Manager 1, 2, 3.

The "Tank" was a well known and popular figure in senior year. He will gain many friends along with a liberal arts education at Fairfield University.

James Patrick Burns

Mount Kisco, New York

St. Francis of Assisi

Intramural Basketball 1, 2, 3, 4; Varsity Football 2, 3, 4; Glee Club 4; Junior Prom Committee; Legionaires 2, 3, 4; Track 1, 2.

Jim, sidelined by a pre-season injury, was sorely missed by the football team. Intending to study engineering he will attend Detroit University.

"Interior Decorating"

Philip Luke Cahill

White Plains, New York

St. John the Evangelist

Freshman Basketball; Class Basketball 1, 2, 3, 4; Bowling Club 1, 2, 3; Chemistry Club 4; Honor Roll 1; Mission Crusade 4; Track 1, 2, 3.

Genial Phil was a hard competitor in the classroom as well as on the intramural court. His fine character and vibrant spirit will make many friends for him at the University of Detroit.

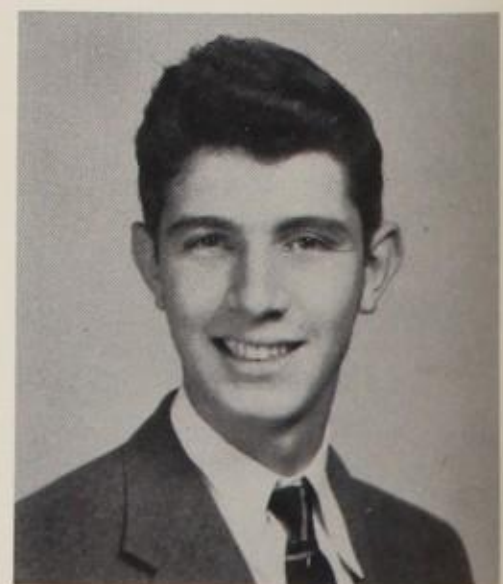

Edward Francis Cairo

Port Chester, New York

Corpus Christi

J.V. Baseball 2; Class Basketball 1, 2, 3, 4; Business Club 1.

Ed, known as "Kid Cairo" to his classmates, has been on the class basketball team for four years and played J.V. baseball in his sophomore year. With this athletic background his plans for being a sports writer should be capable of realization.

"Citizen Chapman"

William John Caldera

Ossining, New York

St. Augustine

Shepherd 3, 4; Band 1, 2; Crusader 2, 3, 4; Dance Committee 2, 3; French Club 2, 3; Orchestra 1, 2, 3.

Bill, one of Stepinac's most able lensmen, has aided the Shepherd and the Crusader with his talents. Not to be outdone in the musical field, he has played the saxophone in the school band for three years.

Jacques Ronald Caldwell

White Plains, New York

St. Bernard

Shepherd 4; Camera Club 1; Chemistry Club 4; Class Basketball 1; Class Officer 4; Crusader 3, 4; Cross Country 2, 3, 4; German Club 3; Honor Roll 1, 2, 3, 4; Junior Prom Committee 3; K. B. S. 3, 4; Senior Bulletin 4; Track 1, 2, 3, 4; Ushers 4.

Jack's liking for English and Track has won him the position of Sports Editor for the Crusader and the Shepherd. A good student, his ambition is to become a doctor after Holy Cross.

James Gilbert Calyer

Verplanck, New York

St. Patrick

Chemistry Club 4; Glee Club 4; K. B. S. 2, 3, 4.

Jim preferred history and disliked math, probably because his pet peeve was homework. He will avoid the draft by joining the Air Force.

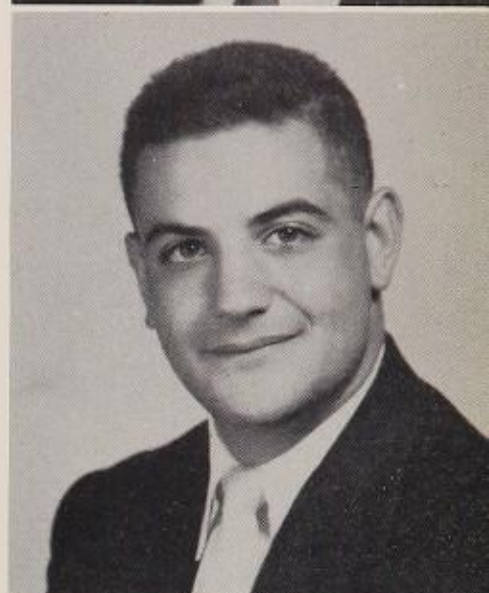

Joseph Anthony Camillo

Port Chester, New York

Our Lady of the Rosary

Band 1, 2; Class Basketball 1, 2, 3, 4; Class Officer 1, 2, 3; J. V. Football 1; Golf Team 2, 3, 4; Italian Club 1, 2, 3; Student Council 4.

The "Kid's" long drives found him in the rough more often than on the fairways. A member of the Championship Golf Team, he has been a mainstay on the Stepinac team for three years. His good humor and jovial nature have made him very popular among the seniors.

Leonard Michael Capobianco

White Plains, New York

St. John the Evangelist

Business Club 1, 2, 3, 4; Spanish Club 2, 3, 4.

"Oodles" who had a great liking for dark shirts, hopes to revise this habit for a white collar job in business administration. His amiable personality and humor will be an aid to him in all his undertakings.

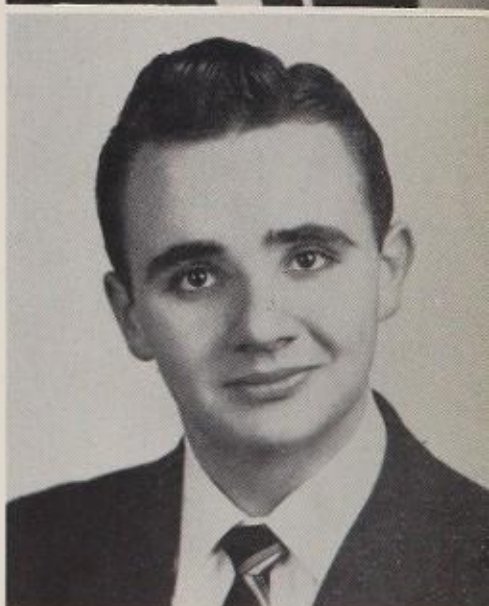

Allan Angel Catanzaro

Mount Vernon, New York

Sts. Peter and Paul

Biology Club 2; Chemistry Club 4; Class Basketball 3; Class Officer 3; German Club 2, 3; Junior Prom Committee 3; K. B. S. 2, 3, 4; Physics Club 3; Scientific Society 2, 3, 4.

Allan's generous nature and genial personality extended from lending money to providing lifts for the boys. Guided model planes placed him in many science contests.

Gilbert Peter Chapman

Tuckahoe, New York

Our Lady of Assumption

Altar Boy 1, 2, 3, 4; Cheerleader 4; Glee Club 4; McCloskey Volunteer 3; Mission Crusade 1, 3, 4.

"Goose" will be remembered by his classmates for his magnificent cheerleading (raccoon coat and all). One of the more popular seniors he found that no matter how hard he tried, he just couldn't seem to get a 100 in Fr. Smerke's Latin Class. He plans to attend some preparatory Seminary in preparation for the Priesthood.

Paul Joseph Choquette

White Plains, New York

St. Bernard

Shepherd 4; Chemistry Club 4; Class Basketball 1, 2, 3; Class Officer 1, 2, 3, 4; Varsity Football 3, 4; French 2, 3; Honor Roll 1, 2; Math Club 4; Mission Crusade 1, 2; Track 1, 2, 3, 4; Ushers 4; K. B. S. Prefect 1, 2.

As effective in the classroom as he was on the gridiron, "The Stomper" was the pride of Stepinac and the fear of rivals. Stepinac's future All-American will study medicine at Notre Dame or Brown.

John Paul Chretien

Mount Vernon, New York

Sacred Heart

Shepherd 4; Bowling Club 3; Glee Club 4; K. B. S. 2, 3, 4; Stage Crew 4.

Jack traveled from Mount Vernon every morning and related stories about the reckless drivers he met on the way. He plans to attend college, or to enter the religious brotherhood.

Alfred Richard Ciaramella

Valhalla, New York

Holy Name of Jesus

J. V. Baseball 2; Class Basketball 1, 2, 3, 4; Bowling Club 2, 3; Class Officer 3; Honor Roll 1; Italian Club 2, 3; Student Council 3.

Vibrant and likeable "King Alf" was well known as the "rockiest scholar of them all, as well as an ever-present extrovert. His favorite subject—(You would never guess it.)—was Italian.

George Patrick Clark

Yonkers, New York

Annunciation

Baseball 2; Class Basketball 2, 3.

"Little George" hopes to attend Manhattan or Detroit in pursuit of a career in engineering. While in Stepinac, his interests were Baseball and Math, accompanied by a dislike for English.

Thomas Joseph Cobey

White Plains, New York

St. John the Evangelist

Freshman Basketball; Class Basketball 2, 3; Varsity Football 4; K. B. S. 2, 3, 4.

Tom, known for his leisurely pace, is naturally peeved by people in a hurry. He will attend Dayton, and then pursue a career in the Merchant Marine.

Robert Patrick Colgan

White Plains, New York

St. John the Evangelist

Altar Boy 3, 4; Cheerleader 2; Class Officer 2; Dramatics 3, 4; Intramural Basketball 2, 3, 4; J. V. Football 2; Honor Roll 2; Legionnaires 2, 3; Spanish Club 2, 3; Track 2.

Bob, who migrated from the "Big City" during Senior year, had a seemingly inexhaustible supply of jokes which have made him one of our wittiest seniors. He hopes to attend the Air Force Academy next September.

Stephen Francis Considine

Bronx, New York

St. Barnabas

Track 1.

The "Barnabas Flash" allowed no man, beast or car to beat him on his daily trek to Stepinac. The Air Force will receive a mechanic well trained in jet engines.

"Homeroom of 4B"

Alfred Vincent Coraggio

Mount Vernon, New York

Sacred Heart

Art Club 1, 2, 3; Italian Club 3.

Al enjoyed the confines of a quiet religion classroom. He hopes to enter construction work after a stay in the Navy.

Peter Alan Corrigan

Larchmont, New York

Sts. John and Paul

Chemistry Club 4; Class Basketball 1, 2, 3; J. V. Football 2; Radio and Electronics Club 3.

Through rain and shine Pete was an avid school supporter. Representing his class intramural team, Pete had an outstanding elbow well known to all opposing teams. He will complete his studies for accounting and law at Notre Dame.

Peter Bruce Cosacchi

Harrison, New York

St. Gregory the Great

Band 1, 2, 3, 4; Crusader 4; Orchestra 4; Social Orchestra 1, 2, 3, 4; Student Council 3, 4.

A well rounded musician, and Stepinac's foremost trumpeteer, Bruce hopes to play in the Notre Dame band next year.

Anthony Frank Coschigano

Mount Vernon, New York

Sacred Heart

J. V. Football 2; German Club 2, 3.

Noted for the class interest he evoked by his statements and questions "Cosh" will be long remembered by both the faculty and the students. His liking for math will aid him in his search for a construction job.

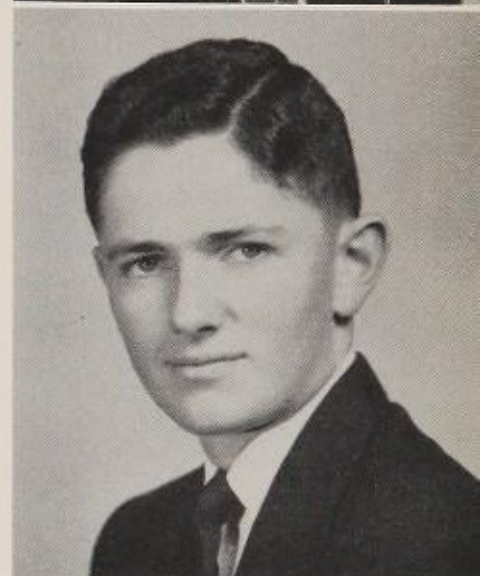

James Patrick Coughlin

New Rochelle, New York

Holy Family

J. V. Baseball 2; Varsity Baseball 3, 4; K. B. S. 1, 2, 3, 4; Legionaires 2, 3, 4; Spanish Club 2.

Somewhat influenced by a certain member of the faculty, Jim plans to attend Holy Cross. His bad jokes are only excelled by his streaks of wildness on the mound, though he did pitch a no-hitter on opening day.

Robert Michael Craig

Bronxville, New York

St. Joseph

Rifle Team 4.

Bob's interests revolved around basketball, flying and the Air Force. Aviation occupies a big spot in his future and he cannot understand how history fits into the picture.

Earl Royal Cubbin

Mount Vernon, New York

Sacred Heart

German Club 1, 2; Glee Club 4; K. B. S. 2, 3, 4.

After school "Cubby" could be found under his jalopy, one of the most popular cars in the Stepinac lot. In following a chemical engineering career, Earl will matriculate at N.Y.U.

"Line up for Omnibus"

Edward Hawksley Cummings

Valhalla, New York

Holy Name Of Jesus

Shepherd 4; Chemistry Club 4; Class Basketball 1, 2, 3; Crusader 1, 2, 3, 4; Dance Committee 3, 4; Dramatics 3, 4; French Club 1, 2, 3; Honor Roll 1, 2; Tennis Team 2, 3, 4.

Having an analytical mind sprinkled with a keen sense of humor, Ted will be a sure success pursuing law at Fordham. "Physical" Ed will not be half as obscure at Fordham as his poetry was in English Class.

Allan James Cunningham

Elmsford, New York

Our Lady of Mount Carmel

Business Club 3; Chemistry Club 4; K. B. S. Prefect 2, 3, 4.

Al, whose humor won him fame, hopes to enter the lucrative field of commercial arts and enjoy its rigors. He will undoubtedly help his success with his quick wit.

John Kevin Curley

Bedford Hills, New York

St. Mary

Business Club 2, 3, 4; Dance Committee 2, 3.

"Curley" plans to become an accountant after studying at Iona. An active member of the school, "Curley" contributed much to Stepinac spirit.

Donald Angelus Daly

White Plains, New York

St. Bernard

Bowling Team 4; Swimming 1; K. B. S. 1, 2, 3.

This latter part of the "Daly Double" seemed reluctant to arrive at school on time. This was the only occasion on which the twins would not be seen together.

Daniel Francis Daly

White Plains, New York

St. Bernard

Bowling Club 4; Class Basketball 1, 2, 3; K. B. S. 2, 3, 4; Swimming 1.

Dan showed an interest in baseball, Spanish, American History and collecting sports items. He was a member of the swimming team in first year and class basketball for three years.

"No homework tonight!"

Henry Paul Danesi

White Plains, New York

St. Anthony

Chemistry Club 4; Italian Club 2, 3; Mission Crusade 1; Science Club 2.

Harry's unfailing good humor will win many friends in the future. "Skip" was always intrigued by the dilution problems in chemistry and hopes to solve them in his work as a Chemical Engineer.

Jay Francis Davis

New Rochelle, New York

Holy Family

Baseball 2; J. V. Basketball 2; Intramural Basketball 3, 4; J. V. Football 1, 2; Varsity Football 3, 4; Dance Committee 3; Spanish 2, 3.

Jay brought many honors to Stepinac by his outstanding play at quarterback on the football team. He was voted the Tom McAn Award as Stepinac's Most Valuable Player by his teammates. Noted for his comical antics, he was a staunch advocate of Br. Lucas' auto driving class.

"Master Mackie spruces up"

Anthony Richard DeCarlo

Tarrytown, New York

St. Theresa

J. V. Football 2; Varsity Football 3, 4; Class Basketball 3, 4; Senior Senate; Class Officer 4.

Tony's dress was usually as sharp as his play on the football team. The Air Force should give him the desired opportunity to travel.

Michael Joseph Delaney

Scarsdale, New York

Immaculate Heart of Mary

Freshman Basketball; Intramural Basketball 2, 3, 4; Class Officer 1, 2; K. B. S. 2, 3, 4; Spanish Club 2, 3; Track 1, 2.

"Little Ti", one of the slickest intramural ball players in senior year, was eager in his interest for typing for he loved to whistle while he worked. He plan sot enlish in the Navy after graduation.

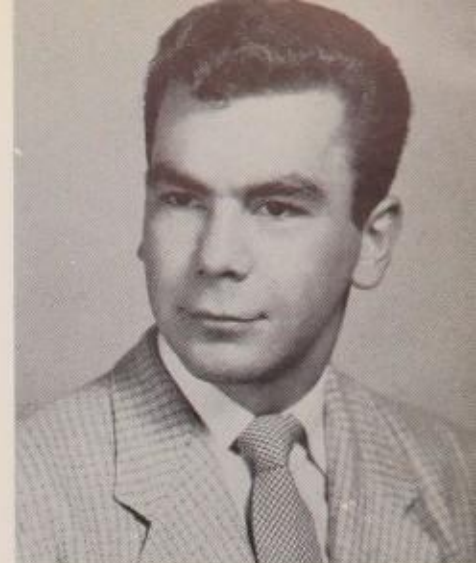

Peter Francis Del Duca

Larchmont, New York

St. Augustine

Chemistry Club 4; Class Basketball 1, 2, 3, 4; Class Officer 1, 4; Dance Committee 3, 4; German Club 1, 2.

Duke, always recognized as a born leader, disliked English while favoring Math. After service he will begin his quest for a degree as an electrical engineer or a job as an electrician.

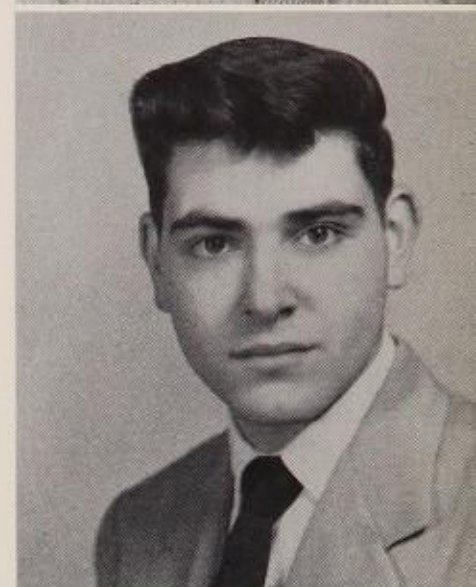

John Joseph Delfino

Ossining, New York

St. Augustine

Dramatics 3; German Club 1, 2, 3; K. B. S. 2, 3, 4; Math Club 4; Ushers 3, 4.

Studios "Del" will follow his aptitude for the sciences, eventually adding an M.D. to his name. St. Michael's, Vermont is his college choice.

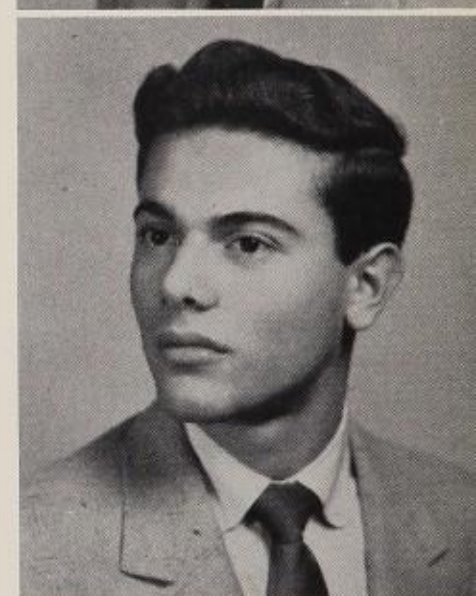

Ralph Ronald DeLucci

Yonkers, New York

St. Bartholomew

Art Club 1, 2, 3; Cheerleaders 1; Italian Club 3.

In class Ralph's dry humor broke up many boring lectures. Ralph spent his spare time in oil—oil painting, that is. Hoping to become an interior decorator someday, he will gear his future schooling accordingly.

John DePalo

Valhalla, New York

Holy Name of Jesus

Freshman Basketball; Varsity Basketball 2, 3, 4; Varsity Baseball 1, 2, 3, 4; K. B. S. 1, 2, 3, 4; Sophomore President; Class Officer 2, 3, 4.

"Dippy's" contribution to the basketball team was surpassed only by his work on the diamond. Jack's shyness with girls was proverbial though he underwent intensive indoctrination in Senior Year.

Thomas Aristide DeTorres

Bronx, New York

St. Philip Neri

Class Officer 1, 2.

Quiet Tom was not bothered by any teacher or subject until he came in contact with English 4. His future after the Army is indefinite.

Charles James DeVito

Tuckahoe, New York

Assumption

Baseball 2, 3, 4; Freshman Basketball; Intramural Basketball 2, 3, 4; Honor Roll 1; Italian Club 2, 3.

"Chuck" devoted most of his spare time to baseball and was rewarded with a position on the J. V. and Varsity Baseball teams for three years. His liking for Math undoubtedly explains his desire to become an architect after a sojourn in the Air Force.

Frank Anthony DiGiacomo

White Plains, New York

St. John the Evangelist

Freshman Basketball; Class Basketball 2, 3, 4; Business Club 2, 3; Dance Committee 3; J. V. Football 2; Orchestra 2; Spanish Club 2, 3.

"Duke" roared into school every day from White Plains in his flashy red convertible. After school, when not working, he could be found tinkering with his car. When he attends college, he hopes to get into an R.O.T.C. unit as the beginning of a career in the Army.

James Michael Divney

Hartsdale, New York

Sacred Heart

Shepherd 4; Chemistry Club 4; German Club 2, 3; Glee Club 4; Dramatics 2; Math Club 4; Physics Club 3; Stage Crew 2.

Smiling Mike was a popular student despite the damper which German placed on him during Sophomore and Junior years. Mike is planning to study Aeronautical Engineering at Detroit and then work in the development of interplanetary travel.

Martin John Dockery

White Plains, New York

St. Bernard

Freshman Basketball; Class Basketball 2, 3, 4; Cheerleaders 1; Chemistry Club 4; Class Officer 2, 3; Dance Committee 3, 4; French Club 3; Mission Crusade 2, 3; Track 1.

"Doc" known for his enjoyable disposition, achieved political greatness when he became Frosh President (in Senior Year). "Doc's" geniality at Stepinac presages the possibility of a career in public relations.

Robert Charles Dohrenwend

Scarsdale, New York

Immaculate Heart of Mary

Shepherd 4; Crusader 4; Dance Committee 3; Mission Crusade 3; Swimming Team 1, 2, 3, 4.

One of the hardest workers in the class of "56" he fought hard to keep on the top of the pile scholastically. The swimming team was his choice in sports for the four years and he admitted that he found it hard to adhere to training routines.

Terrence George Donohue

Bronx, New York

St. Margaret

Chemistry Club 4; Class Officer 4; K. B. S. 4; Mission Crusade 2; Spanish Club 2.

Terry came to Stepinac from Fordham Prep in his Sophomore year. He will attend Manhattan before pursuing the career of dental technician. At present his spare time is occupied by participation in the National Guard.

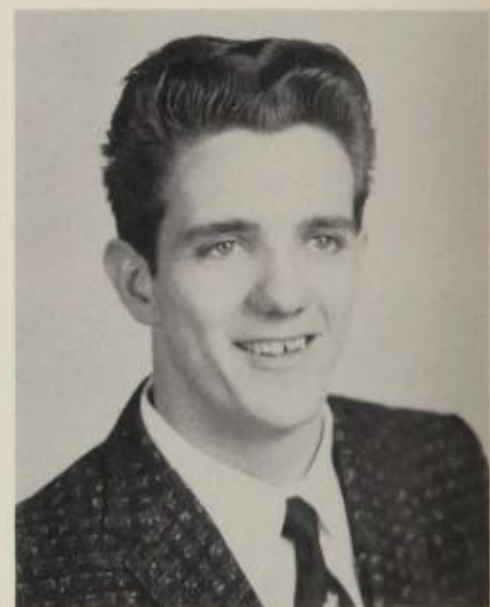

Robert Peter Downes

White Plains, New York

St. John the Evangelist

Business 2, 3; Dance Committee 3; J. V. Football 1; Varsity Football 2, 3, 4; Spanish Club 2, 3; Track 1.

From three years of versatile and outstanding play on the varsity football team, "Bobby Joe" gained experience and knowledge that will aid him in his desire to become a football coach. He plans to attend college to further his education along these lines.

"Homeroom of 4C"

Timothy Michael Dufficy

Mount Vernon, New York

Our Lady of Victory

J. V. Baseball 2; Intramural Basketball 1, 2, 3, 4; J. V. Football 1, 2; Varsity 3, 4; Honor Roll 1; Spanish Club 1, 2, 3, 4; Track 1, 2.

"Joe Duff", whose resemblance to a certain movie star was noted by not a few, was a mainstay at the end on the J. V. and Varsity Football Teams. Graduation will finally dissolve the touching relationship between "Damon" Dufficy and "Pythias" Davis.

Thomas Joseph Dunleavy

Bronxville, New York

Sts. Peter and Paul

Shepherd 4; Baseball 2, 3, 4; Chemistry Club 4; Class Basketball 1, 2, 3, 4; French Club 2, 3; Class Officer 2, 3, 4; Honor Roll 1, 2; J. V. Football 2; Varsity Football 3, 4; Student Manager 4; Track 1, 2, 4.

"T" was one of those few versatile individuals who was at home whether in the classroom, on the gridiron or churning the cinders on the track. Brown will find him a valuable asset in all three fields.

John Joseph Durko

North Tarrytown, New York

Holy Cross

Shepherd 4; Business Club 1, 3; Dramatics 3, 4; Glee Club 4; Mission Crusade 2; Spanish Club 2, 3; Honor Roll 1; Senior Bulletin 3.

John, strange to say, will miss the American History classes at Stepinac. His three year membership in the Business Club will serve a good foundation for his training as a C.P.A.

Basil John Dzubak

Yonkers, New York

St. Peter

Class Basketball 2, 3; Bowling Club 2, 3, 4; Chemistry Club 4; German Club 1, 2, 3; Glee Club 4; Honor Roll 1; Junior Prom Committee 3; Track 1, 2.

A well liked student with a preference for math, "Baze" plans to attend Notre Dame for his next four years of schooling. His ultimate ambition is to be a chemical engineer. "Bouncing Basil" became the best lindy artist in senior year.

George Orvis Ellgen

Yonkers, New York

St. Paul the Apostle

Cheerleaders 4.

In his Junior year he transferred from "that school on the Concourse" and the change was all for the better. The Coast Guard is his choice of service until he decides his future plans.

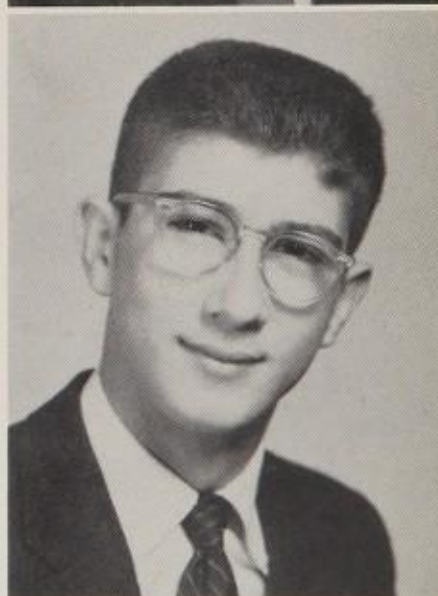

Thomas John Faia

Yonkers, New York

St. Mary

Freshman Basketball; J. V. Basketball 2; Varsity Basketball 3; Track 1.

"Long Tom's" driving layups were the delight of the fans, the despair of the other team and the reason for his ejection from many games. Tom has decided on a career in Physical Education and has already devoted much time and energy to supervising and refereeing many games.

Attilio Anthony Fagnani

Croton-on-Hudson, New York

Holy Name of Mary

Class Basketball 1, 2, 3; Cheerleaders 4; Dance Committee 3; Italian Club 3; K. B. S. Prefect 1, 2, 3, 4; Mission Crusade 4; Legionaires 4; Track 3.

Attilio will attend Cornell in preparation for agricultural work. His interest in Chemistry, along with his good humor and practical knowledge, should enable him to pursue his choice successfully.

"Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs"

John William Feaster

Mount Vernon, New York

Our Lady of Victory

Class Basketball 1, 2, 3, 4; Class Officer 1, 3; Cross Country 1, 2; Dance Committee 3, 4; German Club 1, 2, 3; Track 1, 2.

Peeved by speedy freshmen in his sophomore year, "Ace" dropped track and found peace as a leader in more intimate parts of scholastic life. A popular student, he will undoubtedly be a success.

Dennis Stephen Fernandez

Mount Vernon, New York

Sts. Peter and Paul

Chemistry Club 4; Glee Club 4; Honor Roll 2, 3, 4; K. B. S. 2, 3, 4; Legionaires 2, 3, 4; McCloskey Volunteers 2; Science Club 2; Spanish Club 3, 4.

An assiduous student with a quiet manner, Dennis' erudition has placed him in the higher brackets scholastically. With his eye set on becoming a Diocesan Priest, Dennis hopes to attend Cathedral College for the next two years.

Thomas Adams Filardi

White Plains, New York

Our Lady of Sorrows

Chemistry Club 4; Crusader 4; Dance Committee 3; Dramatics 3; German Club 1, 2; Radio and Electronics Club 2; Science Club 4; Senior Bulletin 4.

Finding fun wherever he went, "Flip" was a most stimulating student. Science occupied most of his school time and will probably do so at Georgetown.

Roland Anthony Fiore

Larchmont, New York

St. Augustine

J. V. Baseball 2; Varsity Baseball 3, 4; Cheerleaders 1; Class Officer 1; J. V. Football 2; K. B. S. 4; Spanish 2.

One of Bus Werder's diamond boys for two years, Roland would like to attend Notre Dame and then give Uncle Sam some time in the uniform of the U. S. Air Force.

Alan Fisher

Hartsdale, New York

Sacred Heart

Camera Club 2; Chemistry Club 4; Dance Committee 3, 4; French Club 2, 3; K. B. S. 1, 2, 3, 4; Math Club 3, 4; Science Club 1; Senior Bulletin 4; Stage Crew 1, 2, 3, 4; Track 2.

Along with contributing to the success of Stepinac's musical productions through four years of work on the stage crew, Al tried his hand at journalism in senior year by contributing to the Senior Bulletin.

"They don't like it, and it took me hours"

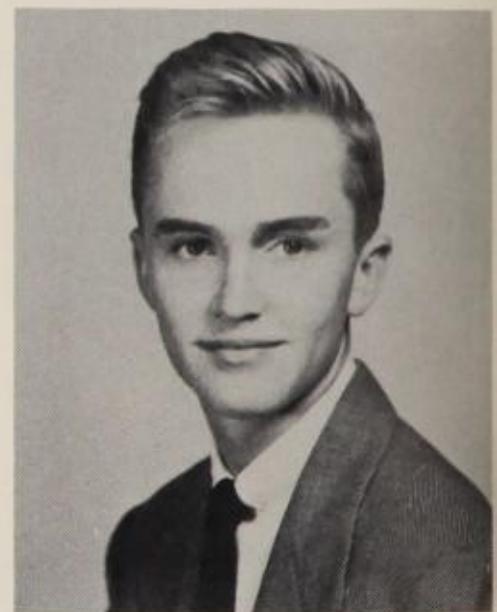

Edward Gregory Fisher

White Plains, New York

St. John the Evangelist

Altar Boys 1, 2, 3, 4; J. V. Baseball 2; Class Basketball 1, 2, 3; French Club 3; K. B. S. 2, 3, 4; Student Council 4; Tennis Team 1, 3, 4.

Greg's sunny smile added zest to free-flowing conversation he mastered at Stepinac. With racket in hand, he spent much time striving to overcome foes on the tennis court.

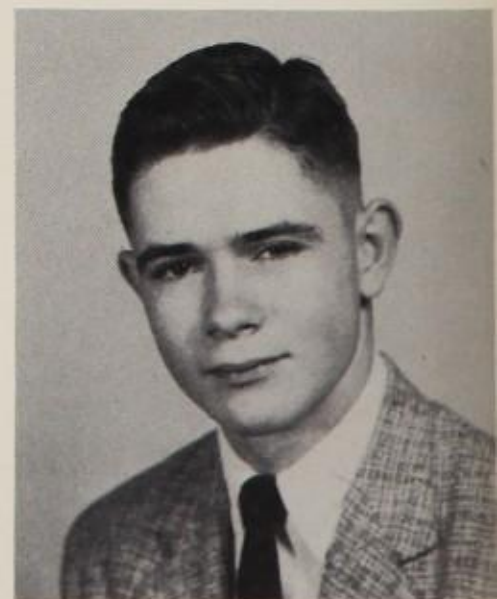

Gerald William Fitzgerald

Yonkers, New York

St. Barnabas

K. B. S. 2, 3, 4.

"Fitz" will find ample opportunity for watching clocks while on duty with the Coast Guard.

"Collegiate Stalagmites"

John Thomas Fitzgerald

Pleasantville, New York

Holy Innocents

Art Club 1, 2; Freshman Basketball; German Club 1, 2, 3; Honor Roll 1; Scientific Society 3, 4; Track 1; Ushers 4.

"Fitz" traveled daily from Pleasantville to continue his struggle with German. Tops among his many interests was basketball with History a close second. Holy Cross will find him an able student.

James Gerald Fitzmaurice

Tarrytown, New York

Our Lady of Mount Carmel

Dance Committee 3; Rifle Club 4.

A lover of the great outdoors and of guns, "Fitz" was popular for his friendly smile and his flame-red Ford. After graduation he plans to go into the Armed Services.

James Bernard Flanagan

Yonkers, New York

St. Paul the Apostle

Band 2, 3; Class Basketball 1, 2, 3; Orchestra 2, 3.

Jim will attempt to find some niche in the Army where he will receive training as a laboratory technician.

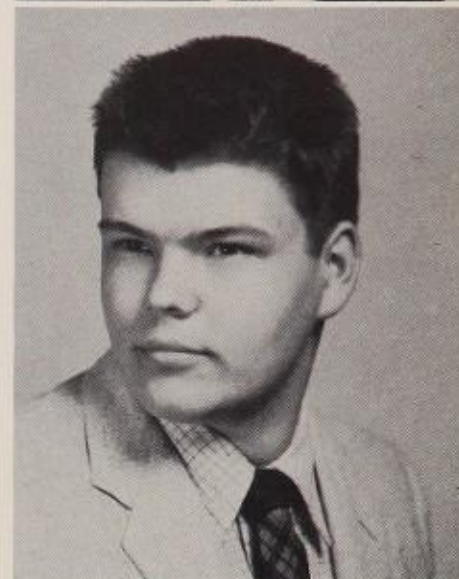

Maurice Thomas Foley

Yonkers, New York

St. Peter

Freshman Basketball; J.V. Basketball 2; Class Basketball 3, 4; Business Club 2, 3; Mission Crusade 1; Spanish Club 2, 3.

With his spirit, personality and athletic ability, "Doc's" ambition of owning and operating his own sports shop should be fully realized. The Army should put him back into condition for basketball.

Paul David Foley

Armonk, New York

St. Patrick

Class Basketball 1, 2, 3.

"Hook" always seemed tired in class and blamed it on his long trip from Armonk. His latent ability needed only an atom bomb to bring it to the surface.

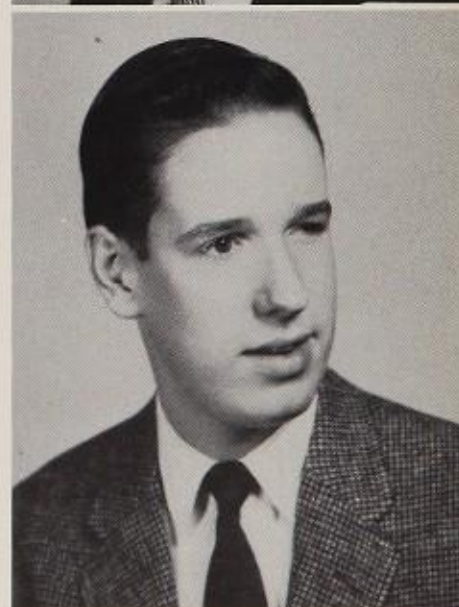

Roland Joseph Foraste

Scarsdale, New York

Immaculate Heart of Mary

Altar Boy 1, 2, 3, 4; Aquinas Society 3, 4; Bowling Club 3, 4; Camera Club 1, 2, 3, 4; Chemistry Club 4; Crusader 3; French Club 2, 3; Honor Society 1, 2, 3, 4; K. B. S. 1, 2, 3, 4; Math Club 4; Ushers 4.

"Rol", an honor student, finds language, particularly French, interesting and not too difficult. He spends his leisure time advising people to disregard the accent on his name.

William Joseph Foster

Mount Vernon, New York

Sacred Heart

Junior Prom Committee 3; Business Club 4; K. B. S. 3, 4.

Bill brought to the classroom a humorous nature which was disturbed only by his serious sojourn in French. He was one of the tireless workers who made the Junior Prom such a great success.

Robert Anthony Frank

Hartsdale, New York

Sacred Heart

Aquinas Society 4; Class Officer 4; Crusader; 4; Dance Committee 3, 4; German Club 3; Honor Roll 2, 3, 4; Math Club 3, 4; Radio and Electronics Club 3, 4; Science Club 3, 4; Student Council 4; Track 2, 4; Ushers 3, 4.

"Herman", a smart but fun-loving student, was popular with both students and faculty. Come fall, he hopes to attend M.I.T.

Martin Joseph Frawley

White Plains, New York

St. Bernard

Band 1, 2, 3; Freshman Basketball; Class Basketball 2, 3, 4; Bowling Team 4; Business Club 1; Class Officer 1; Dance Committee 1; K. B. S. 1, 2; Spanish Club 2, 3.

"Marty" was a good student with a versatile personality and had a high popularity rating after four years at Stepinac. His leisure hours are occupied mostly with attempts to better his bowling score.

Robert Francis Galgano

White Plains, New York

Our Lady of Mount Carmel

Class Basketball 1, 2, 3, 4; Chemistry Club 4; J. V. Football 2; K. B. S. 3, 4; Spanish Club 2, 3, 4; Ushers 3, 4.

"Gal" was the prime example of quiet brilliance. While at Stepinac his interests veered toward golf and Spanish. Iona may look forward to his four year stay.

John Patrick Gardiner

Hawthorne, New York

Holy Rosary

Chemistry Club 4; Radio and Electronics Club 1, 2, 3; Scientific Society 4.

John has excelled in the science courses while History has been his Waterloo. After four years in Manhattan he plans to enter the only profession he feels suited to him, engineering.

Paul Michael Gavin

White Plains, New York

St. Bernard

Paul's quiet manner is disturbed only by the thought of German class. A business career will claim his energy after college and a service hitch in the Navy. His typing proficiency should be a valuable adjunct in any field.

James Allen Gay

White Plains, New York

St. Bernard

Freshman Basketball; J. V. Basketball 2; Varsity Basketball 3; J. V. Baseball 2; K. B. S. 3; Golf Team 2, 3, 4; Track 1.

Jim has been the outstanding disturbance in the back of every classroom for four years. Golf has always occupied most of his time and he hopes to find time at Villanova for a few rounds.

Richard Charles Gervasini

Tuckahoe, New York

Immaculate Conception

Dance Committee 4; Dramatics 4; Glee Club 4.

Dick loved to go on long picnic hikes at Bear Mountain as English would be completely banned from his thoughts at this distance. Dick hopes to obtain a European education at St. Michael's, Toronto.

"Once upon a time . . ."

James Leslie Gilleran

White Plains, New York

St. Bernard

Shepherd 4; Camera Club 1, 2; Crusader 4; Dramatics 2, 3, 4; Football Manager 2, 3; Glee Club 2, 3, 4; K. B. S. 2; Senior Bulletin 4.

"Big Jim", who has a strange aversion to blind dates, gained great fame as the golden-voiced tenor of Stepinac with his wonderful performance in the various stage productions of the Dramatic Society. Jim hopes to find himself on Broadway in the future as the star of a musical comedy.

Bruno Vincent Gioffre

Port Chester, New York

Our Lady of Mercy

Band 1, 2; J. V. Baseball 2; Freshman Basketball; Varsity Baseball 4; Class Basketball 1, 2, 3, 4; Honor Roll 1; Italian Club 2, 3; K. B. S. 2, 3, 4; McCloskey Volunteers 1, 2; Mission Crusade 1, 2, 3; Orchestra 1, 2.

"Giof" has ably aided his class on the basketball court for four years. He was disturbed by P. A. D. but found great enjoyment in bantering with Harry Danesi. St. Bonaventure will gain a well-rounded student.

Edward Joseph Golden

Ossining, New York

St. Augustine

Shepherd 4; Chemistry Club 4; German Club 2, 3, 4; K. B. S. 1, 2, 3, 4; Math Club 4.

"Punch" had trouble concentrating on Algebra for Marilyn was always on his mind. His exact future plans are nebulous.

Walter Joseph Gomlicker

Scarsdale, New York

Immaculate Heart of Mary

Bowling Club 1, 2, 3, 4; German Club 2, 3; Track 1, 2, 3, 4.

His sudden appearance as a top notch high jumper added much strength to the track team. His choice of college will depend upon scholarship offers.

Francis Dexter Gormley

Larchmont, New York

Sts. John and Paul

Shepherd 4; Chemistry Club 4; Legionaires 2.

Dex is undecided as to his choice of college but his career as a Mechanical engineer seems definite. His red jeep was the terror of the parking lot. Although he spent only two years here, Stepinac has gained by his attendance.

Lawrence Joseph Grant

Yonkers, New York

St. Eugene

Chemistry Club 4; Dramatics 3; Swimming Team 1.

Many students have enjoyed the incantations of this self-proclaimed mambo expert. Upon graduating he will pack his snowshoes and gloves and leave for Toronto where he will spend his next four years at St. Michael's.

Gordon Taylor Grimes

Yonkers, New York

St. John the Baptist

While the long hours of school were quite tedious for Gordon, he did find peace on long weekends and the various vacations throughout the year. His ultimate ambition is not thoroughly decided but he hopes to find it during his four year stay with the Navy.

"Homeroom of 4E"

David John Hanrahan

Ardsey, New York

Our Lady of Mount Carmel

Mission Crusade 2, 4.

"Crockett" spent a great many of his leisure hours in his favorite outdoor exercise of horseback riding. After four years in the Navy he hopes to follow the occupation of carpenter.

Thomas Francis Harkins

Mount Vernon, New York

Sts. Peter and Paul

Class Basketball 2, 3; Chemistry Club 4; Cross Country 4; German Club 3; Student Council 3, 4; Track 1, 2, 3, 4.

For four years Tom has served as a reliable member of the track team. He was well-liked in the school and did quite well in his studies. After four years at Notre Dame Tom hopes to enter the engineering profession.

Ronald Guy Harper

Elmsford, New York

Our Lady of Mount Carmel

German Club 2, 3.

A native of Elmsford, Ron enjoyed Physics and Chemistry and plans to use this knowledge to become a Civil Engineer. Despite a dislike for German he managed to sustain its trials and tribulations for two years.

Michael Joseph Harrington

White Plains, New York

St. John the Evangelist

Class Basketball 1, 2, 3, 4; Business Club 1, 2, 3; Spanish Club 3; Track 2.

"Mike" enlivened many classes and activities with his keen sense of humor and his friendly nature. Upon his departure, Stepinac will lose an avid, energetic rooter.

Denis William Hartley

White Plains, New York

St. John the Evangelist

Denis, an energetic camera bug, was possessed of a cool, even temper which helped him face the many annoyances of a high school student with minimum clashes. After college he plans to become an aerial navigator.

"Casual Corridor Control"

Charles Joseph Hayde

Irvington, New York

Immaculate Conception

Dance Committee 3.

"C.J." found English and baseball equally enjoyable with Chemistry the exact antithesis. He hopes to find a spot on the campus of the University of Connecticut.

Ronald William Helling

Crestwood, New York

Annunciation

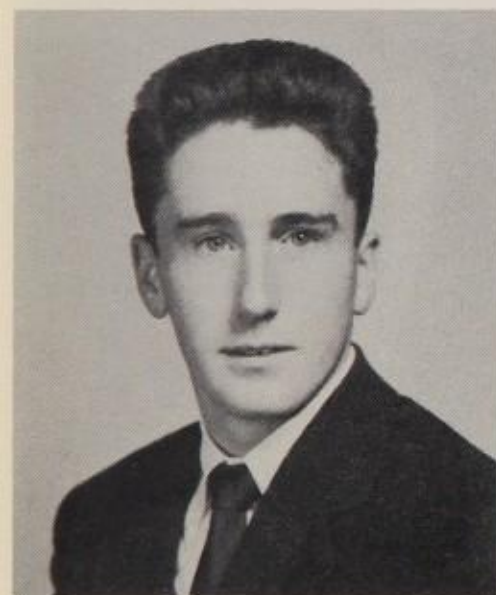

Science Club 3, 4.

Ron found the intellectual atmosphere of the 4A Religion class stimulating and quite enjoyable. He hopes to carry the Stepinac banner to the Westchester Community College.

- "Please, just one more touchdown"

George John Hermanspan

Yonkers, New York

St. Joseph

Business Club 1; Class Officer 3; Honor Roll 3; Mission Crusade 3; Track 2.

A quiet student with an affable temperament, George will transfer these qualities to Manhattan next year. Though he liked the Stepinac brand of History, how it will help him in his career as a business manager is a mystery.

Alfred Henry Hoddinott

White Plains, New York

St. Bernard

Shepherd 4; Class Officer 1, 2, 3, 4; Crusader 2, 3, 4; Varsity Football Manager 1, 2, 3; Junior Prom Committee; Track 1, 2, 3, 4.

Sandy was at his best leaping over the high hurdles for Coach Joe Sullivan. Active in all school activities, he plans to put his business training to good use when, after graduating from Georgetown, he will become a lawyer.

Peter August Hoetjes

Yonkers, New York

St. Eugene

Glee Club 4.

Pete found the tops in entertainment during seventh period when his infectious laugh was heard many times. The Air Force has a definite place in his future.

John Daniel Hogan

North Tarrytown, New York

St. Teresa's

Shepherd 3, 4; Aquinas Society 3; Business Club 1, 2; Dramatics 3, 4; Glee Club 4; Honor Roll 1, 2; Math Club 4; Senior Bulletin 3, 4; Spanish Club 2.

"Long John's" liking for printed matter has helped him greatly throughout his four years. He has contributed to almost everything literary from the Shepherd to the Senior Bulletin. His toils were rewarded with the well deserved post of Business Manager of the Shepherd in Senior Year.

Erland Anthony Holm

Tuckahoe, New York

Immaculate Conception

Art Club 1, 2; Chemistry Club 4; Dance Committee 4; K. B. S. 1, 2, 3, 4.

Earl was famous for that fabulous car he put together and for his fabulous girl friend, Mary Lou. His pleasure in tinkering with cars will lead him to a fine and enjoyable future in practical engineering.

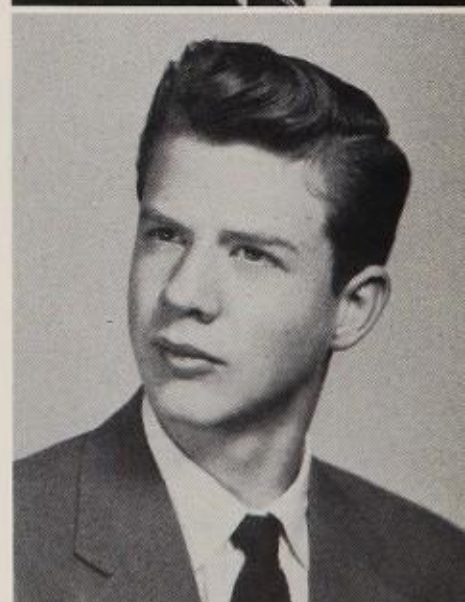

Edward Joseph Horn

White Plains, New York

Our Lady of Sorrows

Ed, who came to us in his Junior Year, was one of the few whose enjoyable disposition never became retarded. He intends to make use of his like for science in the engineering field.

Stephen Frederic Huff

Larchmont, New York

Sts. Peter and Paul

Shepherd 4; Freshman Basketball; Class Officer 3, 4; Crusader 4; Dance Committee 3, 4; German Club 3; Physics Club 3; Scientific Club 3, 4; Tennis Club 3; Track 1, 2.

"Antoine", one of the most conscientious of the Stepinac chemists, will confound his scientific contemporaries by attending Holy Cross in preparation for a career in law.

Michael Joseph Hurley

White Plains, New York

St. Bernard

Freshman Basketball; J. V. Basketball 2; Varsity Basketball 3; Golf Team 2, 3, 4; Mission Crusade 4.

Mike's skill in golf was known to all as a result of his outstanding play on the Golf Team for three years. Golf was not his only sport as his varied talents served him well in Freshman, J. V. and Varsity Basketball. He is undecided as to his college choice but prefers the Navy to the other Armed Services.

Robert Frederick Hyams

White Plains, New York

St. John the Evangelist

K. B. S. 1, 2, 3, 4; Rifle Club 4; Tennis 1.

Football, cars and the U. S. Air Force were Bob's three favorites. Since he entered Stepinac he has been a prefect for the K. B. S. in Junior and Senior years.

James Brian Hyland

White Plains, New York

St. Bernard

Business Club 1; Varsity Football 4; Spanish Club 2; Student Council 4.

Brian went out for the football team in his senior year and showed great promise. With his sunny disposition, he is assured of a bright future.

John Douglas Jandrucko

North Tarrytown, New York

St. Teresa's

Class Basketball 1, 2, 3; Biology Club 2; Chemistry Club 4; Crusader 2, 3, 4; K. B. S. 1, 2, 3, 4; Scientific Society 2; Photography 2; Rifle Club 1.

"Jan", who gripes about the long lines in the cafeteria, plans to pursue a career in dentistry. His work in photography for the school paper has been outstanding here at Stepinac.

Peter Mick Johansen

Port Chester, New York

Our Lady of Mercy

Class Basketball 2, 3; Rifle Club 4.

Pete, who is an avid basketball devotee found English, cars and baseball to his liking. His ultimate ambition is to become a painting contractor.

Jerome John Kadela

Pleasantville, New York

Holy Innocents

Chemistry Club 4; Physics Club 3; Scientific Sodality 3, 4; Stage Crew 1, 2, 3, 4.

Known to Stepinac drama fans as the "man behind the scenes", Jerry was a leading figure in the stage crew throughout his four year stay at Stepinac. The experience he gained in this extra-curricular work, plus the liking he has for Math, should produce a fine engineer.

Lee Patrick Kaspari

Mount Vernon, New York

St. Ursula

Shepherd 4; Altar Boys 1, 2, 3, 4; Cross Country 2, 3; Crusader 4; K. B. S. 2, 3, 4; Legionaires 2, 3, 4; McCloskey Volunteers 3; Freshman Track; Varsity Track 2, 3; Track Manager 4.

Lee was probably most famous for his differential questions. He was very active in all Stepinac activities, especially track. In Senior year, when he became ineligible for Track competition, Lee lent his cinder talents to Mr. Sullivan as Track Manager.

"Philosophy 4"

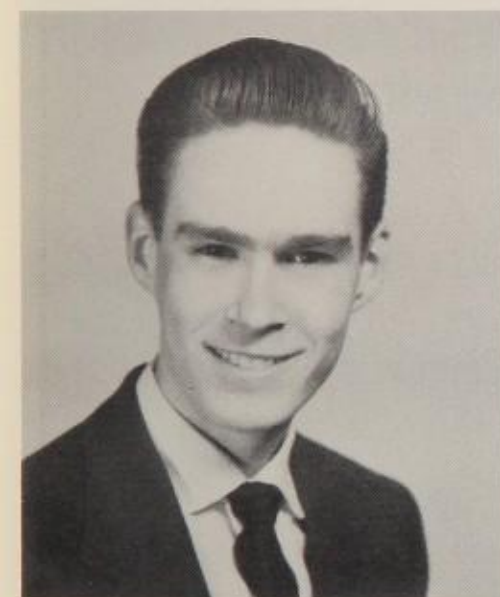

James Michael Keane

Hawthorne, New York

Holy Rosary

Class Basketball 1, 2, 3, 4; Class Officer 3; German Club 2, 3.

Smoking and jug occupied most of his spare time. Eventually he hopes to find a profession in the Navy after a stay at Iona.

John Allen Keefe

Scarsdale, New York

Immaculate Heart of Mary

Intramural Basketball 2; Chemistry Club 4; K. B. S. 2, 3, 4; Spanish Club.

John's love of English and his ability to make friends will be a great aid to him in his future occupation. He hopes to attend Cornell and study Hotel Management.

Gerard Arthur Keenan

Tuckahoe, New York

Annunciation

Class Basketball 1, 2, 3; Bowling Club 2; German Club 2, 3; Mission Crusade 3.

Big Jerry fancied himself as quite endearing to the opposite sex. This tall, good-looking lad will enter the Army, before committing himself to college.

Shepherd 3; Bowling Club 2, 3; Bowling Team 4; Chemistry Club 4; Chess Club 4; Honor Roll 2, 3; Student Council 3.

"Chuck," who came to Stepinac in his Sophomore year, has since gained much popularity in the school. Four years at M.I.T. should turn him into a fine civil engineer.

Lawrence John Mistretta

Tuckahoe, New York

Immaculate Conception

Altar Boy 1; Chemistry Club 4; German Club 2, 3; Honor Roll 1; Radio and Electronics Club 2, 3.

"Lanky Lew" was a familiar sight around the halls of Stepinac. An ardent baseball and radio fan, Larry hopes to gain his degree in electrical engineering at Manhattan.

"That's funny, I thought I had enough"

Edward Joseph Mullee

Pawling, New York

St. John

Student Council 1; Swimming Team 4.

Ed's interests included football, cars and the army. Mechanical Drawing made his school day brighter.

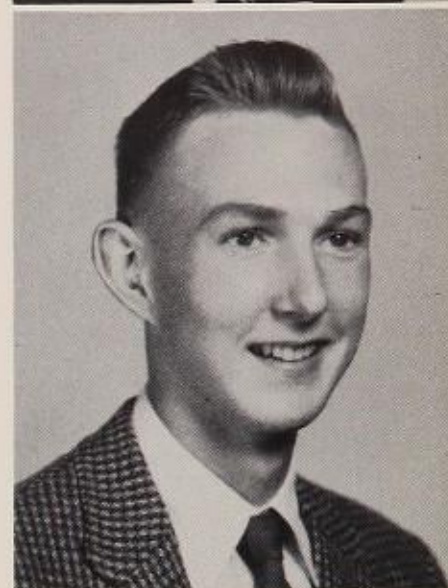

Jeremiah Lawrence Murphy

White Plains, New York

St. Bernard

Shepherd 4; J. V. Tennis Team 3, 4.

"Murph", one of the more obscure poets in senior year, enjoyed fooling around with old automobiles. He is planning to attend Notre Dame.

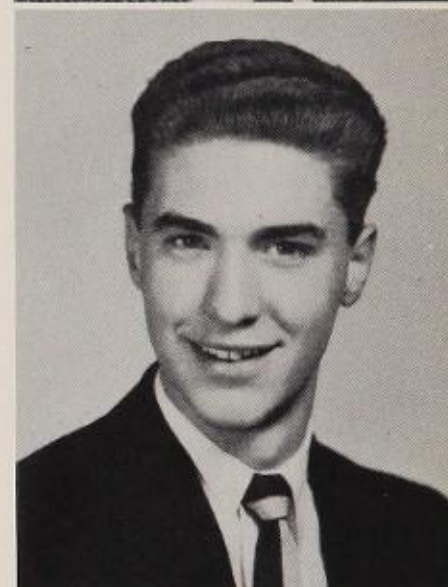

John Andrew Murphy

North Tarrytown, New York

The Magdalene

Biology Club 2; German Club 1, 2, 3; Glee Club 4; K. B. S. 1, 2, 3, 4; Track 1.

Although Jack showed an aptitude for the sciences, he experienced an even greater liking for religion. He will attend St. Jerome's College, Ontario, in preparation for the priesthood.

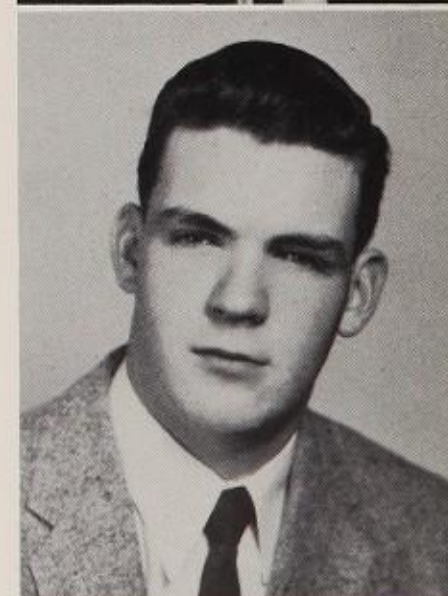

Michael William Murphy

Mount Vernon, New York

Sacred Heart

Dramatics 1, 2, 3, 4; Glee Club 3, 4; Junior Prom Committee; K. B. S. Prefect 1, 2.

Genial Mike devoted all his energy to dramatics, hot rods and football and thus had little time for scholastic pursuits.

Edward Barry Morrissey

Sacred Heart

Mount Vernon, New York

Shepherd 4; Bowling Club 3, 4; K. B. S. 1, 2, 3, 4; Glee Club 4; Legionnaires 2, 3, 4; Stage Crew 3, 4.

Ed, whose dislike for Geometry was exceeded only by his dislike for Trig, devoted much of his spare time to model building. After graduation he intends to attend college and then a hitch in the Navy will be the order of the day.

Harvey Joseph Murray

Larchmont, New York

St. Augustine

Band 4; Cheerleaders 1; Crusader 2, 3; Mission Crusade 2; Spanish Club 2, 3, 4.

Harvey was best known for his mature outlook on life and for his expert drumming in the school band. He found Spanish and Chemistry to his liking. While his peeves were Geometry and crowded corridors, he hopes to enter the Capuchin seminary.

Frank Dominic Muscolino

Yonkers, New York

St. Barnabas

Baseball 1, 2, 3, 4; J. V. Football 1; Varsity Football 2, 3, 4; Class Officer 3, 4.

"Chick", the popular footballer from Woodlawn, has been a member of the varsity football squad for the last three years. His line play in senior year earned him a place on the all-county team. Though his jokes were stolen from Joe Miller, he always received a thunderous response.

Robert Owen Myers

White Plains, New York

Our Lady of Sorrows

Shepherd 3, 4; Altar Boy 1, 2, 3, 4; Biology Club 2; Crusader 3, 4; German Club 2, 3; Honor Roll 1, 2, 3, 4; K. B. S. 1, 2, 3, 4; Legionaires 2, 3, 4; Math Club 4; Radio and Electronics Club 2, 3; Science Club 2, 3, 4.

"Bobbo's" attraction for science was displayed in his thorough enjoyment of all science classes and his hobby of electronics. He hopes that Manhattan will transform him into an electrical engineer.

Nicholas Francis Nanna

Mount Vernon, New York

Sacred Heart

Junior Prom Committee; K. B. S. 1, 2, 3, 4; Science Club 2.

"Naive Nick" has mastered the intricacies of Geometry and Italian but he has yet to understand Latin. His favorite sport was football while jug was his pet peeve.

John Joseph O'Connor

Pelham, New York

St. Catharine

Altar Boy 1; Class Basketball 1, 2, 3, 4; J. V. Basketball 2; Dance Committee 3, 4; Glee Club 4; Honor Roll 1; K. B. S. Prefect 2, 3, 4; Mission Crusade 4; Spanish Club 2, 3, 4; Swimming Team 2.

"Strap", who favored languages over mathematics, was known for his sharp wit in all circumstances. His personality will be an important asset in his study and practice of law for which he plans to prepare at St. Francis, Loreto.

Peter Herbert Oehrlein

Pelham, New York

St. Catharine

Art Club 2; Cheerleaders 1; Chemistry Club 4; Dramatics 1, 2; Glee Club 4; Honor Roll 2; K. B. S. 1, 2, 3, 4; Physics Club 3; Science Club 3.

Pete's penchant for history should give him a firm foundation in his ambition to work in the Foreign Service. Georgetown will inherit a fine student and a hard worker in the guise of a mild, quiet spoken young man.

Michael Emmett O'Grady

Valhalla, New York

Holy Name of Jesus

Shepherd 4; Bowling Club 2, 3, 4; German Club 2, 3; Honor Roll 1, 2; K. B. S. Prefect 1, 2, 3, 4; Math Club 4; Phoenix 3; Rifle Club 1; Senior Bulletin 4.

When "Red" graduates, Stepinac will lose a quiet and efficient personality. Although rarely in the headlines he was behind them many times as editor of the Senior Bulletin.

Fintan Paul O'Hare

White Plains, New York

St. Bernard

Art Club 2, 3, 4; Dance Committee 4; Dramatics 1; K. B. S. 3, 4; Poster Club 2, 3; Spanish Club 2, 3.

Fintan's unique sense of humor has made him popular at Stepinac. This ability will certainly aid him in the future. When not hunting, Fintan can be found collecting guns and keeping them in tiptop shape.

"Mr. Wonderful"

Daniel Lawrence O'Leary

Mount Kisco, New York
St. Francis of Assisi

Cheerleaders 1, 2, 4; Dramatics 1, 4; Glee Club 4; K. B. S. 1, 2, 3, 4.

The "Big Man" of 4C, Don contributed much to Stepinac in his four years. Known for his school spirit, he was an outstanding cheerleader and was Captain of the squad in his Senior year. His liking for Chemistry will undoubtedly aid him greatly in his preparation for an M.D. at St. Bonaventure.

Thomas Michael O'Leary

Yonkers, New York
St. Joseph

Business Club 1, 2, 3, 4; Dance Committee 3; K. B. S. 1, 2; Spanish Club 2, 3.

Mike, who comes from Yonkers, is one of the best liked students in his class. He plans to become a corporation lawyer after spending some time in the service.

Bowling Club 3; Honor Roll 2; K. B. S. 1, 2, 3; Legionaires 2, 3, 4; German Club 3; Glee Club 4; Physics Club 3; Science Club 3; Student Council 4; Track 1, 3, 4; Ushers 3, 4.

Although undecided in his choice of a college, Buzzy would be a fine asset to any of them. A good student and well liked at Stepinac, he should do well as a physicist.

Carl Anthony Paladino

Port Chester, New York

Our Lady of Mercy

Electronics Club 2; German Club 3; K. B. S. 2, 3, 4.

Carl's happy smile was familiar to all Stepinac students. His great interest in electronics coupled with his knowledge of radio should help him to become a fine electronics engineer.

Alvin Thomas Paliani

Scarsdale, New York

Immaculate Heart of Mary

Bowling Club 1, 2; Track 1, 2, 3, 4.

Al was one of the invaluable members of the track team since he specialized in high jumping. He plans to go to St. Anselm's to take business courses and then continue on to the career of a business manager.

John James Palmer

Port Chester, New York

Our Lady of the Rosary

German Club 2, 3; Physics Club 3; Radio and Electronics Club 1.

A hard worker both in the classroom and out on the track, Mauro should contribute much to Holy Cross, where he plans on improving his already fine scholastic record.

Robert William Papcsy

White Plains, New York

St. John the Evangelist

Shepherd 3, 4; Camera Club 2, 4; K. B. S. 1, 2, 3, 4; Spanish Club 2, 3.

The "Wheel" lists among his likes History, Baseball and Photography. He is heading for a career in business. He has aided the photography department of the Shepherd Staff for the last two years.

Franklin Joseph Pearce

Port Chester, New York

Our Lady of Mercy

Altar Boy 4; Class Basketball 1, 2, 3; Glee Club 4; Honor Roll 3; K. B. S. 1, 2, 3, 4; Student Council 4; Track 1.

Joe was well known on the intramural courts throughout his entire stay at Stepinac. A good student, he will be a strong asset to the college of his choice, Westchester Community College.

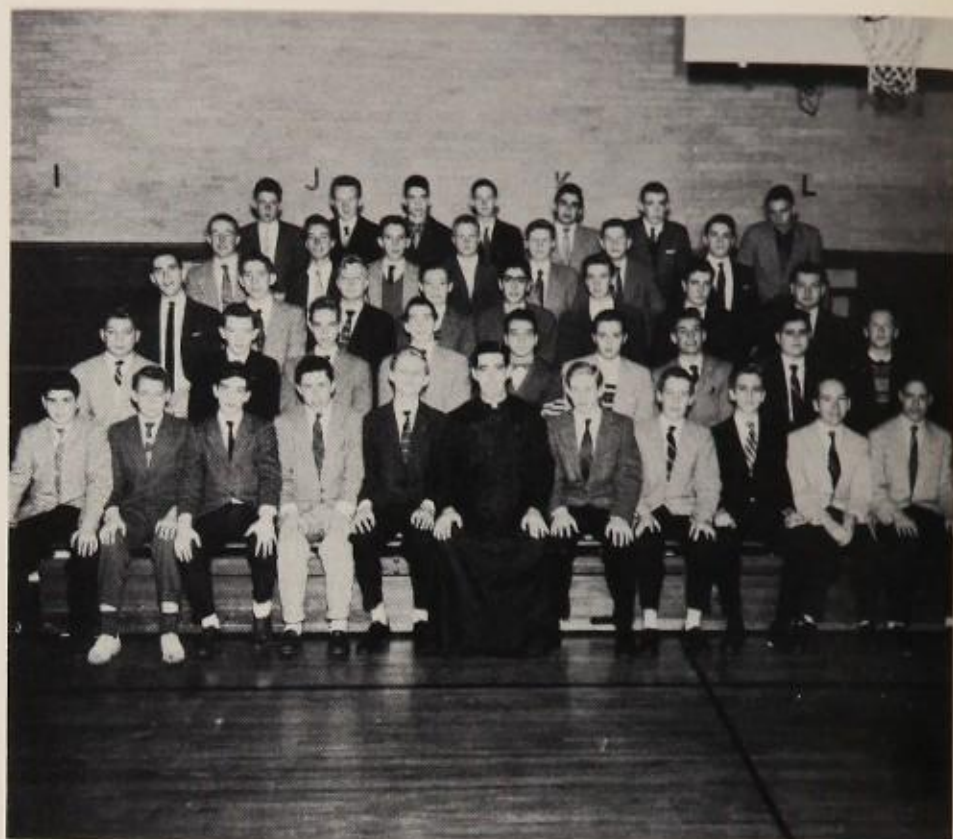

Oscar James Pearl

Scarsdale, New York

Immaculate Heart of Mary

Class Officer 4; Dance Committee 3, 4; J. V. Football 2; Varsity 3, 4; Mission Crusade 4; Track 2.

One of the most popular and best known students in the school, Oscar was a valuable member of the varsity football team for two years. He is planning to become an exporter.

"Homeroom of 2B"

Stephen Charles Peck

Pleasantville, New York

Holy Innocents

Dance Committee 3, 4; Senior Prom Committee; Glee Club 4.

Steve regarded his transfer from Iona as the greatest blessing in his young life. His distaste for Algebra and Trig must be overcome if he is to succeed in engineering at Detroit.

Robert Mathew Pepe

New Rochelle, New York

St. Gabriel

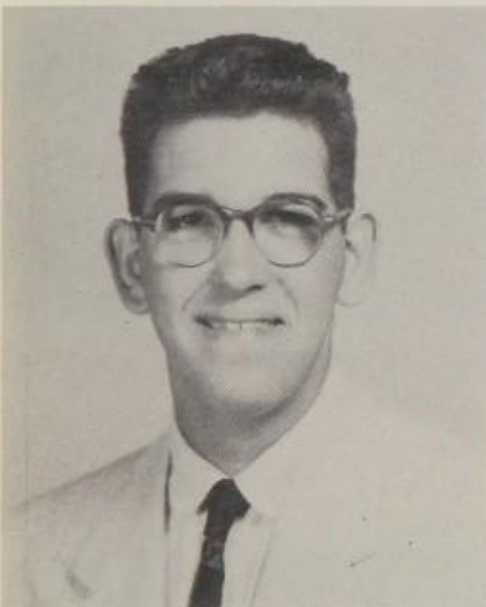

Band 2, 3, 4; Business Club 2, 3, 4.

Bob, a member of the school band for three years, plans to enter the Air Force where he will work as hard as he did here at Stepinac.

"Man's activities in the world should reflect education and contemplation. That education is neither Christian nor complete which does not reflect on the wisdom of the past and does not prepare the students for the demands of the world with all ingenuity and foresight. While principles remain unchanged, educated men must meet the challenge of the age with all the abilities of their souls, minds and bodies. The well educated man represents the answer of the liberal Christian tradition to the vagaries of the modern mind whose activity is not based on contemplation."

"De Disciplinis Tradendis"—Vives
(On the Transmission of Learning)

Vives, a foremost Spanish contemporary of Erasmus, was unfairly overshadowed by Erasmus whose position in the literary world and whose bitter criticism of monks and the monastic schools gave peculiar force to his views in the non-Catholic world. Educators recognize Vives as the foremost educator of the Reformation period whose powerful mind has been clearly felt, although not acknowledged, by those who profited by his writings. The breadth of Vives' intellect led him to advocate the inductive method fifty years before Bacon.

The Stepinac Dramatic Society continued its tradition of piling hit upon hit with this year's outstanding production of the famous Sigmund Romberg musical, "The Student Prince." The fifth in the series of musical-comedy presentations, the play provided an effective vehicle for the talent of Stepinac's players.

Junior Paul Soccodato scored his first stage success with a fine portrayal of the lead role, that of Prince Karl Franz, divided between his love for the bar-maid, Kathy, and his sense of duty to his country. Paul's fine tenor voice and acting ability promise greater things in the future. In the part of Kathy, who loves the Prince and is later forced to give him up, Nancy Muller, no stranger to the Stepinac stage, co-starred with Paul. Whether singing a duet with Paul, or trading quips with the members of Heidelberg's Student Corp's she added tremendous vitality to the show.

Returning after his great success in "Song of Norway," Jon Voight created a rare interpretation of the hilarious role of Johann Lutz, the Prince's domineering valet. Complete with German accent and whiskers, Jon surpassed his amazing triumph of last year with a masterful handling of the play's main comic role.

The semi-tragic, semi-comic role of Dr. Engel, the Prince's elderly companion at Heidelberg, was given a masterful delineation by Jim Gilleran, remembered for his lead parts in "Song of Norway" and "Brigadoon." In this role of Dr. Engel, Jim turned in his best performance as the foil for Lutz and the favorite of the Student Corps.

The Student Corps received its leadership from three sturdy performers, Phil Bergan as Count Hugo Detleff, Dom Bernardi as von Asterberg, and John Durko as Lucas. This trio of merry-making students provided a dramatic bridge between the Corps and the Court, and transported the audience back to the University of Heidelberg. Detleff, von Asterberg, and Lucas became memorable characters in the course of an evening by the deft handling of these three roles.

The romantic interest was furthered by the plight of the Princess, portrayed by Jo-Ann Vitucci, who loved the Prince, but who, because of his indifference toyed with the affections of a man beneath her station. The latter, Captain Tarnitz, was ably played by Mike Murphy, a four-year veteran of the Step-inac stage.

S. Birdsall, N. Muller, P. Soccodato, J. Gilleran, J. Durko,
D. Bernardi, and P. Bergan.

An extremely important role was filled perfectly by the discovery of Bill McIvor. As Count von Mark, the iron-faced Prime Minister, Bill left his mark on the Stepinac stage. Another important role was delightfully discovered in the character of Gretchen, superbly played by Sue Birdsall whose final catch of Hubert endeared her to the hearts of the audience. In the part of Hubert, secretary to Lutz, Dick O'Keefe showed himself a sure and deft artist, with the creation of a truly laughable character. Grace DeCecco stood out with a fine performance in a difficult character part, that of the Duchess, beset by Herr Lutz's frantic ravings. Ruder, the troubled innkeeper was keenly played by Bob Magdelain, who showed that his talent would be in demand next year.

Fine acting was also turned in by Jed Williamson, as Toni the waiter, Sheila Logan, in the part of the Countess Leydon, Ed Travato, the portrayer of Baron Arnheim, and Bill Wakefield as Nicholas. Jack McCarthy, while serving in the important role of Student Director, also found time to give us the part of Rudolph, the last love of Kathy.

No show of this caliber could dare to open without the vitality given to it by a well-trained chorus. This year's chorus, under the direction of Fr. William McGann, provided a lively mood, reminiscent of old Heidelberg. The choreography, under the guidance of Mr. Ray LaBru became an integral part of the production. For the first time, the show was accompanied by an orchestra, whose fine accompaniment was a tribute to the foresight and hard work of Fr. McGann. Those backstage genii who literally hold the show together, but who rarely receive any publicity, the stage-crew, performed with unusual alacrity under the lead of Frank Bohlen. The sets, always a stand-out in Stepinac productions, were again designed by Jon Voight, and were constructed under the guidance of Frank Bohlen.

The most important man in any show is the director, and this production was no different. Fr. James Cashman, who funneled the diverse talents into one stream, and who worked untiringly in behalf of final success, deserves the thanks of all who saw the show for his directorial achievements. The final production of "The Student Prince" served as a tribute to the hard work of everyone connected with the Stepinac and Good Counsel Dramatic Societies, as no production of its type could ever be seen were it not for the untiring labors and good will of all concerned.

Music Department

All year round from September to June, Stepinac's Music Department maintains a dizzy pace in supplying school functions with the necessary musical background. The various organizations composing this important section of school life are the Marching Band, the Swing Band, the Glee Club and a new addition this year, the Orchestra.

"Our Drum Major receives some assistance."

Swing Band

Front Row: R. Barz, R. Black, L. Lombardi, R. Forasti, R. Preston, B. Cossachi. Second Row: P. Loretan, T. Carpenter, R. Bernardi, A. Pugliese. Back Row: H. Nevins, D. DeLuca.

In the football season the Marching Band is the busiest of these groups, providing rythmical accompaniment to Stepinac's rooting section, and displaying their intricate formations in half-time programs. Besides this schedule the Band performs at all rallies and assemblies where music is needed and in many military and patriotic parades in White Plains. The Band, composed of about sixty students, looks forward to next year and a possible increase in size and new uniforms.

"And this is how we learn."

Fr. McGann Directing.

When the social season rolled around, the Swing Band came to the fore with its accomplished playing at most Stepinac dances. Under the leadership of Bruce Cosacchi, and featuring the best of the school's musicians the Swing Band has become well-known throughout the county for its reliable performances and unique style and was in great demand for many outside engagements. The Swing Band received the honor of appearing on the Teen Bandstand and were ranked high in comparison to other schools.

This year's work load was increased by the addition of a Christmas Concert, featuring the combined Glee Clubs of Stepinac and St. Catherine's Academy. The Glee Club, composed mainly of seniors, were warmly received for their remarkable rendition of songs appropriate to the Christmas season. This event, a new one at Stepinac, featured many selections by the Glee Clubs, and several vocal and piano solos.

Another new event this year was the formation of an Orchestra, designed to provide accompaniment for the musical, "The Student Prince." Working in conjunction with girls from St. Catherine's High School in the Bronx and Manhattanville College, the Orchestra lent new depth to the annual production.

Concert Band Prepares for Spring Music Festival.

"Beautiful Music Together."

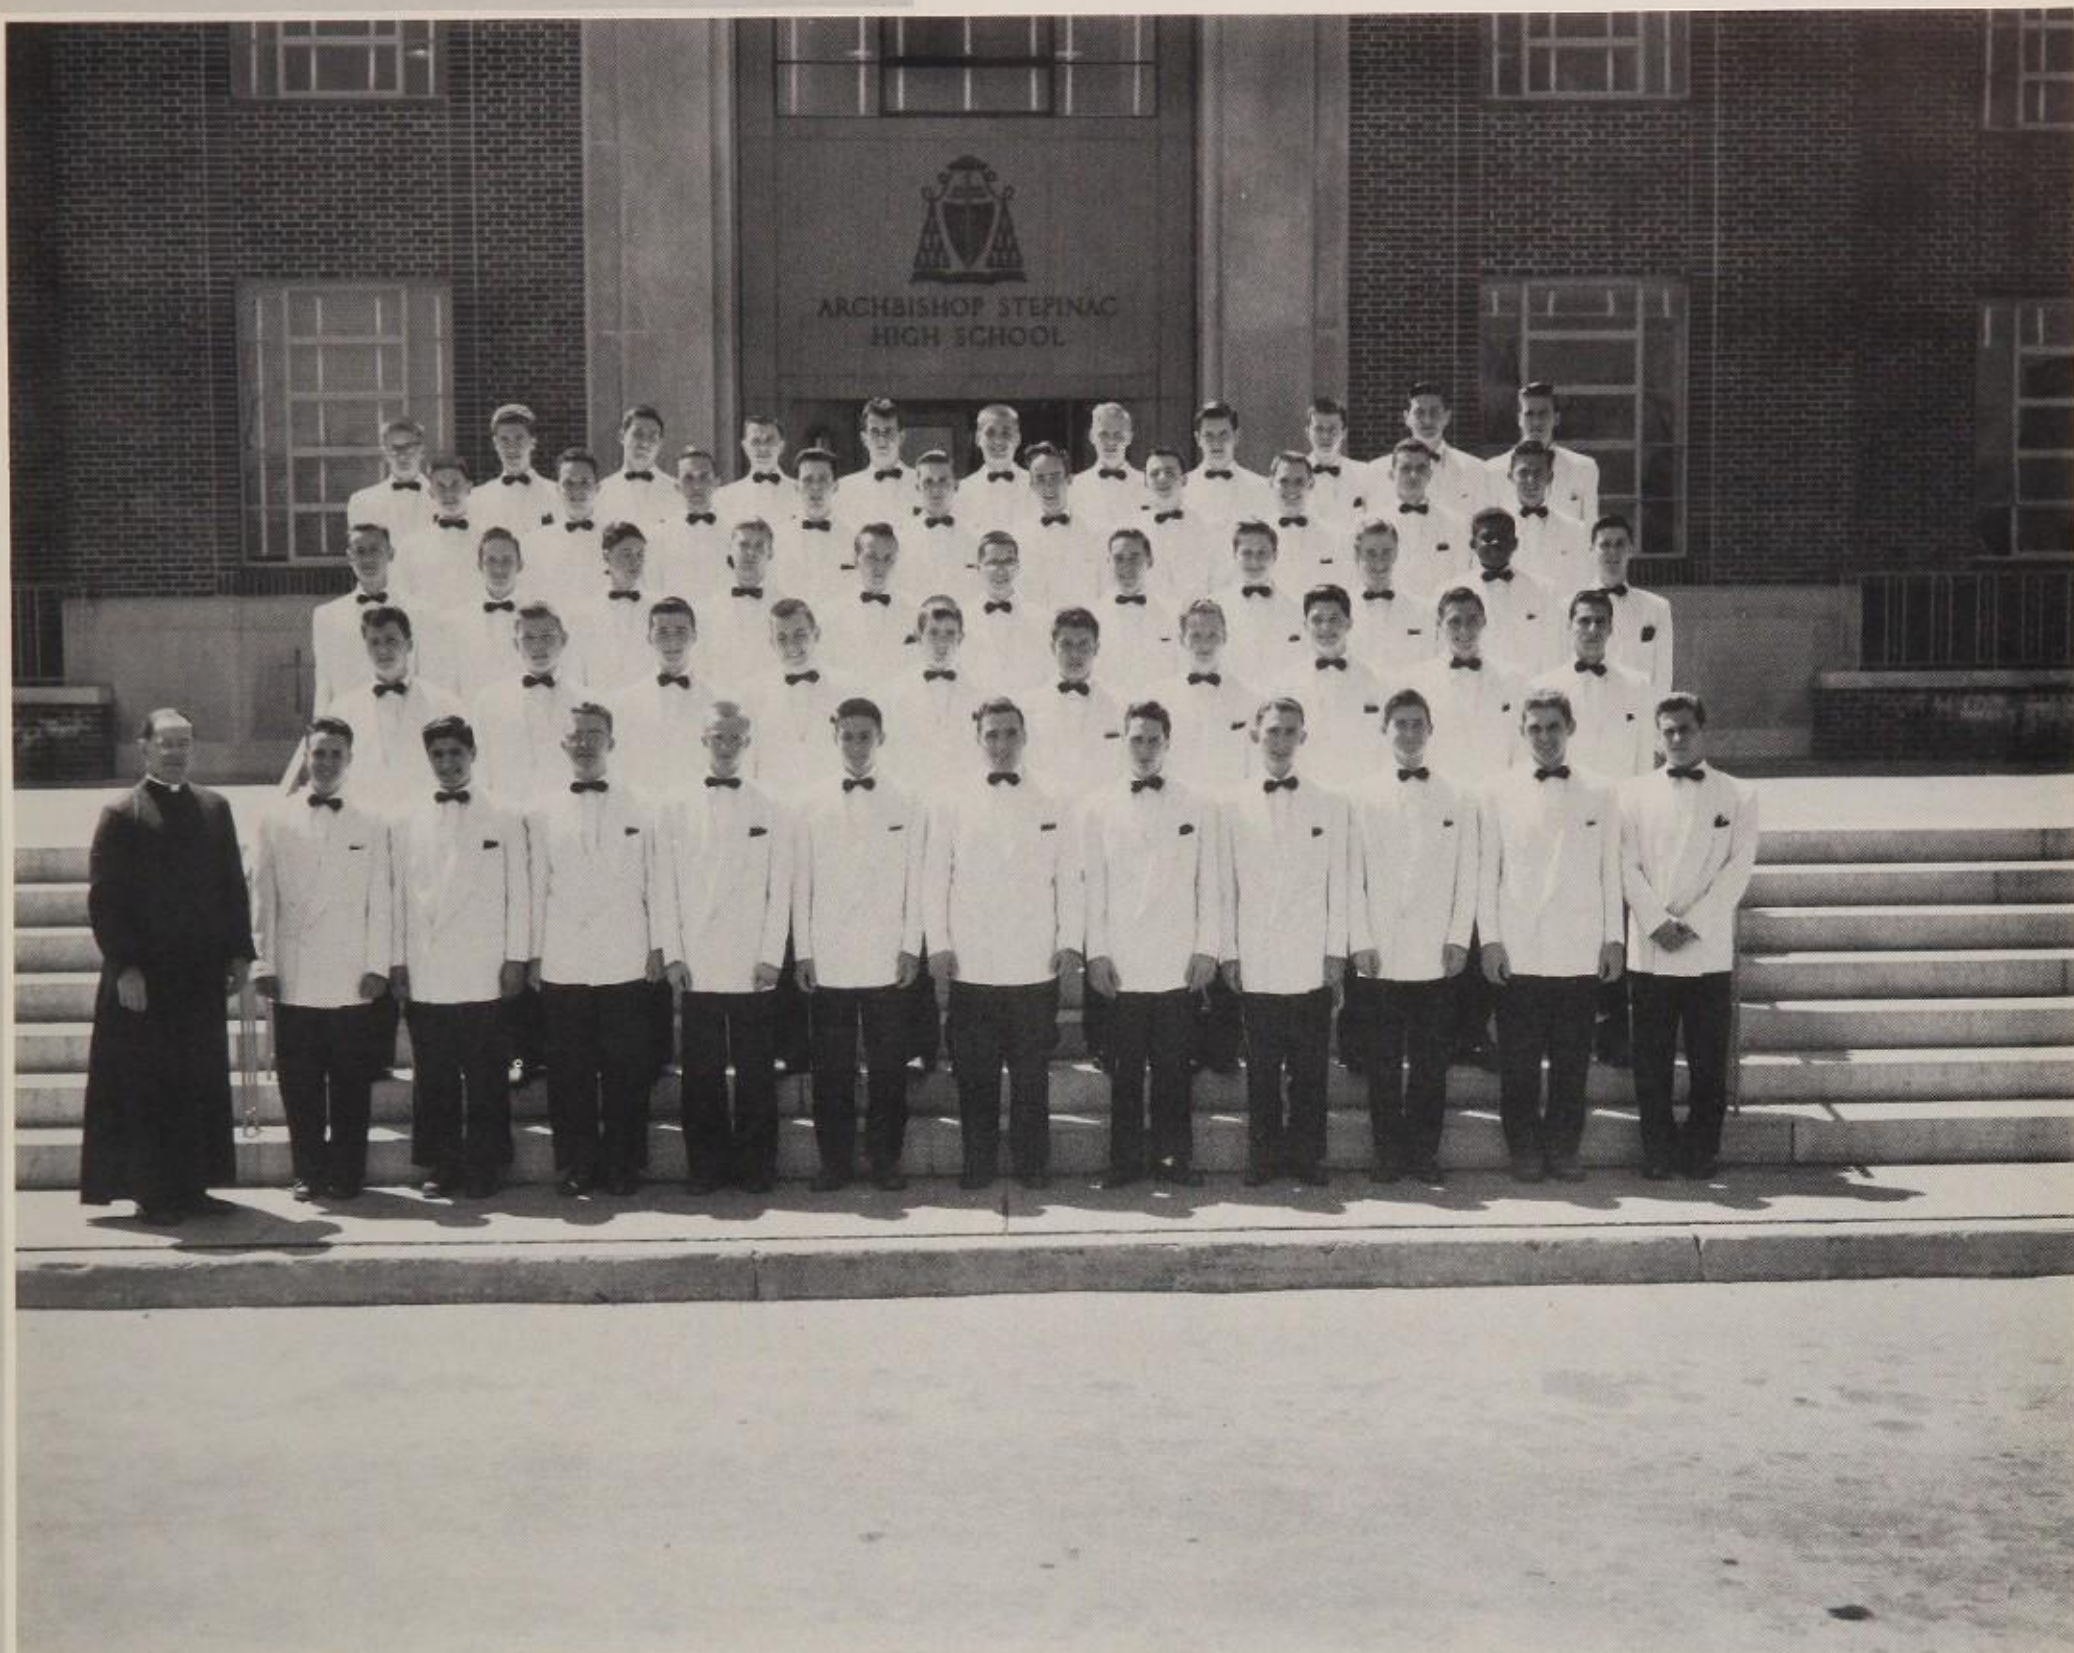

Robert Pratt

Roger Bernardi

At the close of the school year, all these organizations, with the exception of the Marching Band were gathered together for the Spring Musical Festival. This concert represented the culmination of the year's efforts in the musical field. A well balanced program of classical, band and swing music was presented to enthusiastic audiences at Stepinac and St. Catherine's High School.

The well appreciated productions of the Music Department are result of the efforts of its director, Father William McGann and his assistant, Mr. John Reilly. Their job of providing professional productions on limited rehearsal time is unenviable, but their record of success indicates how well they have accomplished the direction of musical activities at Stepinac.

Although lacking a class of Journalism, the school provides an outlet for those who are journalistically inclined through the medium of the Crusader. This paper is published monthly by a staff consisting of members of all four years in the school and is under the direction of Father Joseph McCarthy.

From its inception in 1948 the paper steadily expanded to the present form which now consists of four pages of five columns each. The outlook for future progress lies in the direction of a six page edition. Through this paper the students receive accurate and complete information about past, present and future events. It is financed through a growing list of advertisers and the Student Association fee.

It is an activity of which the students can be proud. The Crusader has constantly won all Catholic and Medalist ratings from the Catholic Press Associations respectively and is also a member of the Columbia Press Association. As a result of their efforts the prominent members of the staff receive Quill and Scroll pins at the culmination of the year's Work.

The Shepherd

Perhaps in no other activity found in Stepinac is there so much work to be done in what appears to be so short a time. This year the problems were multiplied as the staff, under the leadership of Jon Voight, attempted to provide a bigger and better yearbook. The innovations attempted were the increasing of the overall size of the edition, the inclusion of five color pictures and a record containing various selections from the "Student Prince", the Spring Musical Festival, and the Christmas Concert held in conjunction with St. Catherine's Academy in the Bronx. These were added because the staff felt that since the activities attempted this year were so successful, the yearbook should increase proportionately.

The year-round activities in making up a book of this magnitude require the cooperation of both students and faculty. Moderating his third successful yearbook is Rev. John Lyons, assisted by Rev. Francis Melican. Among the many tasks that have to be overcome are the planning and developing of the theme, the art work, photography, typing, proof reading and, of course, the most important of all, the financial status. Since there were so many innovations this year, the latter had a greater significance than usual. The capable handling of this by the Business Manager, John Hogan, solved many problems.

Thus it is with great confidence that the Shepherd Staff feels with this bigger and better yearbook we will continue the excellent tradition set by previous Shepherds in winning Medalist ratings from the Columbia Scholastic Press Association ratings.

For these five, the sun never set.

Chemistry Club

On every Thursday afternoon after school there can be found in the Chemistry Lab an assortment of 45 seniors actively engaged in experimenting with the mysteries of chemistry. Under the capable leadership of Rev. Laurence McGowan the club attempts the experiment of the week. Once a month these experiments take on a greater significance as the members of the Good Counsel Chemistry Club journey to Stepinac to try their hands at the secrets hidden in the test tubes of 230. A typical meeting consists of a short lecture on the experiment by Father McGowan, the experiment itself and afterwards a discussion aided by refreshments supplied by the members' dues.

Each year some center of scientific interest is visited. This year the club traveled to Bayway, New Jersey to see the Esso Research Center.

Scientific Society

Scholastically the Scientific Society has brought more renown and distinction to Stepinac than any other group. Composed of the members of all the other scientific or natural science groups who have prepared projects for any contest, it develops over a period of four years numerous students who are concentrating on intensive research and who wish to learn how their projects compare with those from other schools. While it is directly moderated by Fr. McGowan, it must depend upon the cooperation and devotion of the other science moderators.

At the annual Stepinac Fair Robert Andriola captured first place with his analysis of Sewage Disposal, an unusual and worthy project. In the Catholic Science Council Fair, seniors Michael Brienza, Robert Pratt and James Divney succeeded in capturing numerous awards as did juniors Rene Muller, Claude Ceccon, and Philip Ryan and Sophomores Albert Rinaldi, Robert Patrie and Robert Anthony. In the first Westchester Science Fair, Rene Muller, Daniel Mandell and Albert Rinaldi won gold medals.

Biology Club

Aiming to present to the student a more detailed view of the field of Biology, the club presents opportunities to perform experiments beyond the scope of class-work. Meetings, consisting of either a discussion or movie on some prominent facet of Biology, occur bi-weekly. Occasional field trips to sites of general interest spark the knowledge learned in class with realism.

General Science Club

"Preparation" would be the key-word of this organization. The primary purpose of the General Science Club is to prepare those Freshman, who are interested in science, for the more advanced courses of study they will encounter during later years.

Under the guidance of Br. Martinian they met bi-weekly to gain skill and experience that is beyond class work. This knowledge finds an outlet in the many scientific contests that present themselves during the school year. An interest in science that is begun in this club often leads to a career in one of the many branches of science.

Math Club

The function of the Math Club is two-fold. It is a preparation for the College Entrance Examinations and the various scholarship examinations which are taken in senior year. Also it is an outlet for those students who wish to have a more advanced knowledge of mathematics and for those who wish to receive help in a math subject with which they are having difficulty. It is the capable leadership of Brother Nivard that aids the students of Stepinac in garnering many mathematical honors.

The Spanish Club, providing a broader view of the Spanish language and people, interested many students of Spanish. Under the capable leadership of Brother Alois, the Spanish Club enjoyed Spanish movies, books and recordings as well as advancing their proficiency in the language itself.

K.B.S. and Altar Boys

To help students to exemplify the perfect Catholic young man—that is the object of the Stepinac organization known as the K.B.S. or the Knights of the Blessed Sacrament. The organization is divided into two groups, the Altar Boys and the main body of the K.B.S., which is subdivided into the class Prefects and the members themselves. The members of this group represent by their actions the ideals of the Boy Christ. They also pledge themselves to follow the requirements set down by the K.B.S. Among just these are: a promise to receive Holy Communion every week, to recruit other members, to attend Benediction every Friday and many other spiritual activities.

As an example of the splendid work that this society is engaged in we may cite the fact that during the last year six-thousand communions were distributed at school. The Altar Boys go a step further and actively take part in the religious activities of the school, by serving at daily Mass and the various special Masses at which the entire school attends.

The Legionnaires

Of the many spiritual organizations at Stepinac, the Legionnaires stand out as a special unit. This group has a particular devotion to the Blessed Mother, who will always occupy a principal position in the religious life of the student body. Conceived last year, under the careful guidance of Father McDermott the members of this group have been given more opportunities to foster devotion to Mary within themselves by learning about her life and ideals.

Every Monday afternoon these meetings took place and after opening prayers to Mary there followed a discussion of the ways to interest other students and friends into the company of Mary. Slides and motion pictures of the shrines of Mary are frequently viewed. Included in these programs are annual trips to Maryknoll and Dunwoodie Seminaries and visits to various Marian shrines in the metropolitan area. This year a joint program was achieved with the Good Counsel Academy group in holding a praesidium in our auditorium. Here the topics on debate concerned problems of youth and vocations.

Business Club

The Business Club is designed to further the interests of the business students in the latest developments in the field of business. This is accomplished by weekly meetings of the club which are held by groups in which those interested in typing, duplicating and calculating machines meet with their group for further training in their particular field.

The purpose of the Business Club is to give the business students an opportunity to apply the skills learned in their various courses to a practical situation. The club is divided into groups as follows: duplicating, typing and calculating machines. After advanced training in each of these fields each group is able to help various school functions through the making of posters, typing letters, stencils, etc.

The Senior Bulletin, which is printed weekly by senior members of the club, offers a medium for presenting news that is of interest, primarily, to the seniors.

Senior and Junior Prom Committees

At the renowned and beautiful Glen Island Casino, the Senior Promenade was held on the first of June. The dance was truly a memorable one, highlighted by the music of the noted Claude Thornhill and his orchestra. It was the first year that the Senior Class was entertained by a name band. All those who attended appreciated the directing hand of the senior moderator, Father Stanley Mathews. He was ably assisted by John McCarthy, President of the student body, Frank Bohlen, Richard Gervasini, and many others, whose work and sacrifice made the affair possible.

On Friday evening, May 11th, the school gymnasium echoed to the music of Lou Martin as 130 juniors led their girls through the entrance erected for their night of nights, the Junior Prom. Brother Nivard devoted much time and effort to supplement the work of the Prom Committee and together produced the finest Junior Prom in years.

Dance Committee

Under the direction of Father John Gaffney, the Dance Committee provided a major portion of the school's social activities.

Just prior to a dance the committee meets and decides on a color theme, and various members are selected to decorate the gymnasium on the afternoon of the dance. Posters are painted; some of which are placed around the building, while others are sent to neighboring girls' schools. Even on the night of the affair their work continues, since it is the Committee members who collect the tickets and set up the refreshments.

Ushers

Courtesy is the byword of this hard working organization. Led by Father Mathews, this group has various tasks. Among them are taking care of the seating at the play, acting as waiters at the annual Ladies' Bridge, and helping at the various social and extra-curricular activities of the school.

Seniors: Richard Andres, Philip Bergan, Dennis Fernandes, Roland Foraste, Robert Frank, Michael Brienza, Thomas Marrie. The Aquinas Society

The Aquinas Society is a renovation of the old honor roll system and was instituted last year by the Dean of Studies, Father Nolan, to encourage the students in attaining higher scholastic recognition. Under the patronage of Saint Thomas Aquinas, the renowned Catholic scholar, theologian, philosopher, and Patron of all Catholic Schools, this society adds prestige to its members.

The Society is divided into two groups. The first or Primi are those who have obtained at least 85 percent in each subject for any three marking periods in either semester. The second group are the Secundi, the members of which have obtained the same grades for any one marking period. Pins are awarded to the Primi as a mark of special achievement. Meetings are held at the call of the Dean of Studies.

Those who are members of the Aquinas Society rightly deserve that honor and set a prime example for other students to attain such rewards for their scholastic ability.

Chess Club

One of the new additions in the realm of club activities this year was the chess society headed by Brother Meinrad. Prompted by the knowledge of students who wished to play the sport, the chess club was founded.

The prime purpose of the organization was to encourage students to engage intramurally in competition. During the year many chess tournaments were held with other schools, such as Horace Mann, Fordham and Storm King. Although the won-lost record was not an impressive one, due to lack of experience, the boys, however, enjoyed many an afternoon in these mental gymnastics.

Student Government

At Stepinac the reins of Student Government reside in the hands of three groups: the Senior Senate, the Student Council and the School Officers. Each complement the others while performing their own special functions.

The Senior Senate, the highest elected body, meets under the direction of Fr. Mathews to present solutions for present problems or to recommend plans for coming school events. Representatives from each Senior homeroom combine with the officers of each year to offer the viewpoint of the student body on all matters of importance. Conferring often with members of the administration, it serves in an advisory capacity on matters affecting the student body.

The Student Council, working under the direction of Fr. Sullivan, is responsible for the maintenance of order in the halls and the overall conduct of the student body. Composed of outstanding students from Junior and Senior years, the councilors aid the enforcement of school regulations, contributing to the efficiency and order of the school.

The school officers, representatives of the student body, selected from a party slate, act as the direct contact between student and faculty and as liason between the members of the other executive bodies in the student government. It is through the class officers that the individual student may request the betterment of conditions in the school especially those concerned with social activities.

It was once said by Thomas Carlyle, "The true University of these days is a collection of books." Although young in years, Stepinac's library has grown in quantity and quality approaching this standard.

The Library Club, administered by Brother George Patrick, involves the services of other students due to the excess of work. Among the more noticable services of the club are the periodic exhibits that appear each month, discussing contemporary books and the annual Catholic Press Month Exhibit which illustrates the works of the finest Catholic writers. Included among the works of the library is the supervision of audio-visual aids which enable the students to comprehend more easily the varied arts and sciences. These aids include wire-recorders, motion picture projectors, records and many other facilities that help make education interesting.

One of the organizations that has grown year by year is the Mission Crusade. This year's contributions from the students have surpassed all previous totals. While each individual homeroom selects its own mission representative, Fr. Murray presided as moderator of the society.

Out of every dollar contributed fifty cents is sent to the foreign missions, the remaining half is divided among the home missions and the Holy Land. This year's total of more than three thousand dollars exceeded last year's two thousand four hundred dollars. During Lent the society directed its efforts towards the Bishop's War Relief and collected over four hundred dollars. Mother's Day Mass Cards are sent to the students by the Propagation of the Faith. Its purpose is more than financial, for it offers spiritual contributions in the form of the offering of masses.

Oratorical Society

The importance of a man's ability to express his thoughts clearly is appreciated at Stepinac by many organizations but by none so much as the Oratorical Society and the moderator, Father John Mulroy. Under Father Mulroy's direction Stepinac has been well represented in this field in the past, and this year is no exception.

In the first event of the year, the American Legion Oratorical Contest, Kevin Buckley won first place and the gold medal, even though he is only a sophomore. Second place was won by Peter Bourlier and third by Patrick Brennan, both juniors. Sophomores Robert Mangone and John Manfredi also competed. Two other events, the CYO and the Journal American Contest were conducted in the Spring with as satisfying results.

Fr. Sheets, Moderator; P. Ryan, K. Buckley, R. Madden, J. Manfredi, P. Dirr, A. Munoz, P. Brennan, R. Mangone, C. Wilbur, R. McSweeney, E. Johnson.

Debating Society

For the first time in the history of Stepinac enough students were interested in debating to warrant the inception of a debating society. The spirit of the sophomore class was again manifested in the large numbers of their class who participated in the preparation and delivery of debates under the tireless guidance of Father Sheets. Competing favorably in four interscholastic debates and two tournaments, the members displayed a commendable poise and received experience that will turn them into polished debaters in the future.

The Alumni Society

The Alumni Society has now grown to full blown maturity for the first class to spend four years at Stepinac has now graduated from college. This June will see many of them married, others receiving commissions in the various Armed Services and many firmly entered into the business world. The Alumni Society, under the painstaking guidance of Father Mathews has been responsible every year for welding all the graduates together with the Alumni Newsletter and providing means of keeping contact with their Alma Mater.

Ladies' Auxiliary

The Ladies' Auxiliary this year, under the leadership of Mrs. Francis Reynolds, president, had an increased membership of more than 375 mothers. The monthly meetings were highlighted by interesting and informative guest speakers, among whom were Rev. James Keller, founder of the Christopher movement, Rev. Daniel Egan, O.S.A., the famed retreat master, and several members of the Stepinac Faculty. The Auxiliary's chief social event was their annual Easter Bridge, which was, this year, bigger than ever. The revenue taken in for all their endeavors goes toward the expense of running the school. The last affair of their year was the Communion Breakfast which added the appropriate climax to a successful year.

Dads' Club

This year the Dads' Club, under the presidency of Mr. Walter Bohlen and the moderatorship of Fr. William Ward, completed its most comprehensive and successful year. Its increased membership enabled it to extend and widen the scope of its activities in cooperation with the activities of the school. The assistance of the members was invaluable in the smooth handling of the crowds at the home football games. The sponsorship of the Annual Football Dinner and the Golden Gloves Night added life and variety to the extra-curricular program of the students. The suggestions and help rendered to the moderators of many of the school activities tangibly contributed to the success of these activities and made the link between parent, teacher and student even closer.

Bob Downes (58) chases Yeoman (26) of Aquinas.

Aquinas 13 — Stepinac 6

In its opening game the 1955 edition of the Stepinac football team made the annual trip to Rochester to meet Aquinas High School. The Crusaders, underrated as a grid power, totally outclassed the Rochester squad during the entire game in all but the score. After the opening kickoff on their own 35 yard line, they plowed their way to the 15. Choquette then scooted around right end for the first touchdown of the season.

Strong defensive play by George Marklay, Tony Sullivan, and Chick Muscolino held the opponents at bay for the first two periods. However, heavy penalties and costly fumbles took their toll in the third quarter. A 94 yard touchdown run by Choquette was called back in that period and Stepinac never recovered as the Irish copped the game 13-6.

Stepinac 19 — Fairfield 0

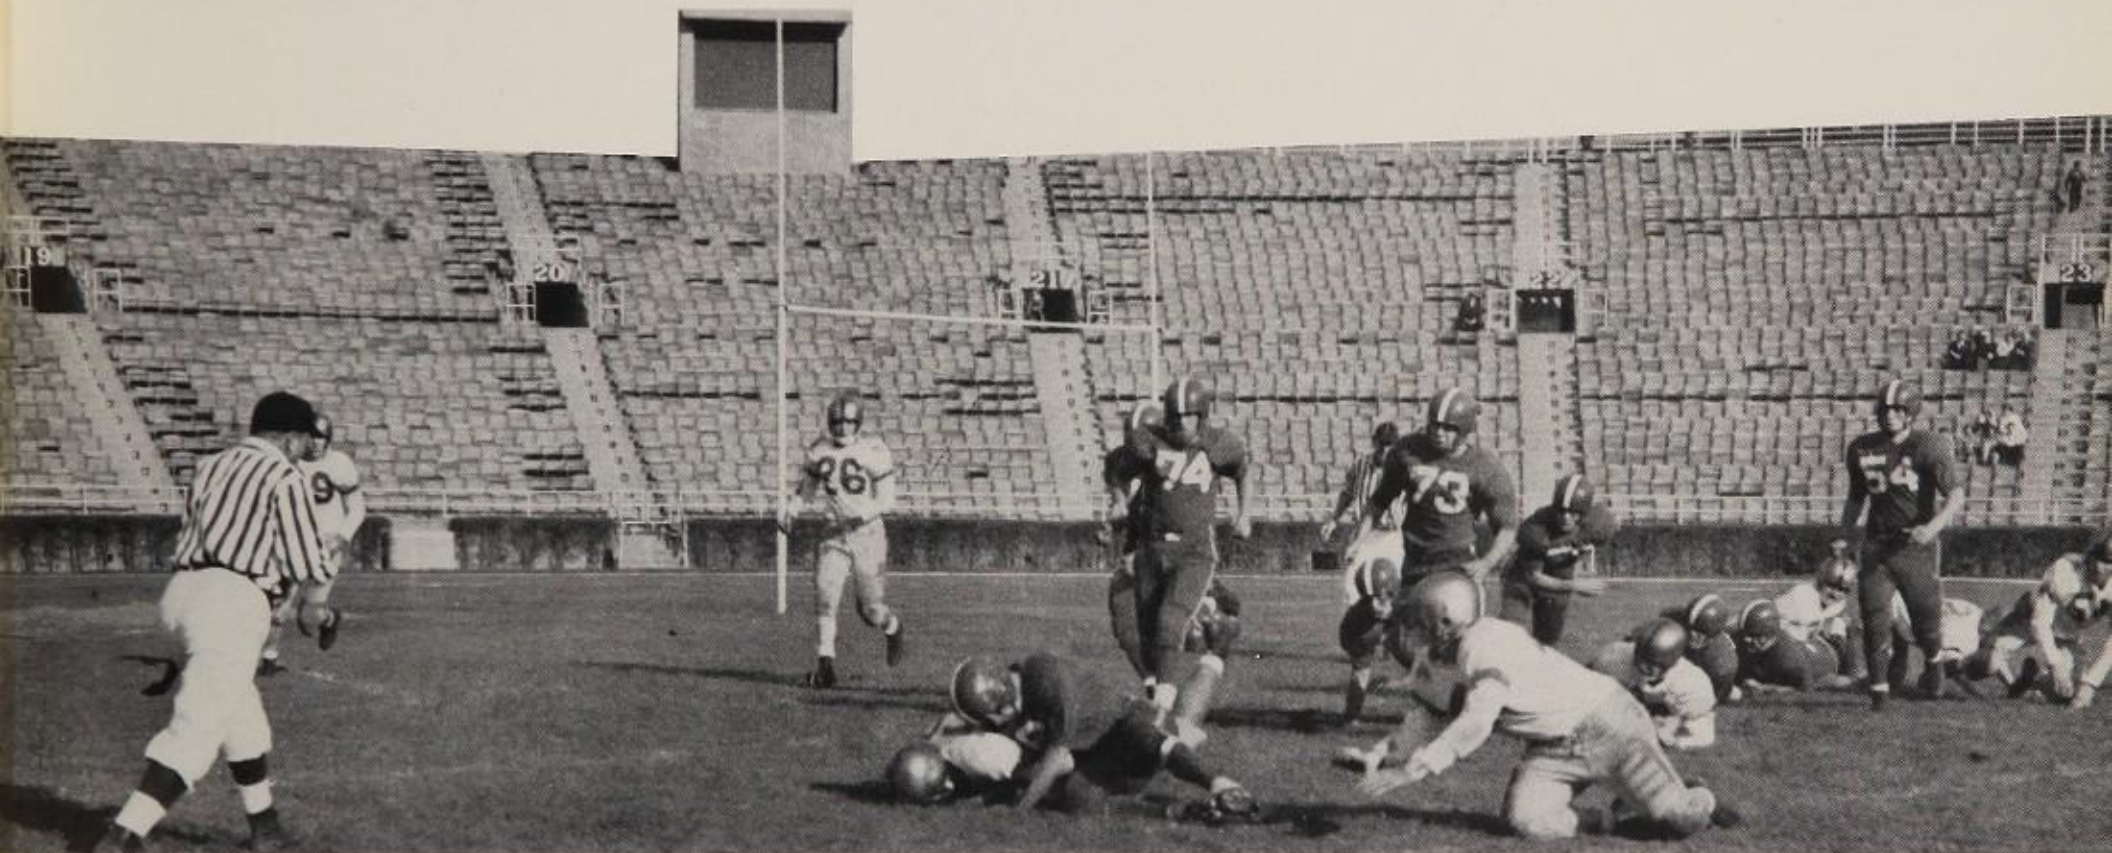

On Saturday, October 8, over 1800 people braved rainy weather to watch the Crusaders christen the new football field. After a slow start in the opening quarter, the Knights came to life as Choquette romped 37 yards around left end. Ten plays later he bulled over for six points more.

Jay Davis returned a Fairfield punt two minutes after the second half opened, and ran untouched for a 60 yard touchdown and then booted the extra point. Later in the period, Bob Downes recovered a fumble which eventually led to another touchdown by Choquette.

Coach Werder then put in his second stringers and the fans thrilled to the speedy broken running of a virtual unknown, sophomore Joe Kerwin, who later was to play a major role in the bid for the CHSFL crown.

Stepinac 19 — Hayes 6

Choquette continued his scoring in the Hayes tilt on October 23 at Randall's Island. The Crusaders again played lethargic ball at the outset of the game but awakened in the second quarter when quarterback Jay Davis hurled a 20 yard pass to Choquette, who sped 35 more yards for the touchdown. In the third period Bob Downes, Joe Kerwin, and Choquette, masterminded by Davis' adept signal calling, drove to the six yard line where Choquette bulled over for the score.

A dozen fumbles plagued the Crusaders and set up the lone Hayes' score. However in the final two minutes the Knights insured their victory when Henry Sampers made his only touchdown of the year.

Stepinac 31 — Iona 7

Stepinac returned home on the next Saturday to play its memorable game against Iona Prep. The team, inspired by the spirited encouragement of 4,000 fans, played near perfect ball and completely outmanuevered the bewildered Gaels. Choquette repeatedly charged through All-County guard Bill Draddy and accounted for 217 yards and three touchdowns. Two of his touchdowns came on long sprints of 60 and 54 yards each. Davis flipped a 15 yard pass to him for his score of the day.

Marklay, Muscolino, and Oscar Pearl obliterated the Gaels' offense as they halted the elusive running tactics of Iona halfback Lew Leone. In our own offensive department, Joe Kerwin often relieved the pressure from Choquette as he crashed for one touchdown and lateralled to Davis for another.

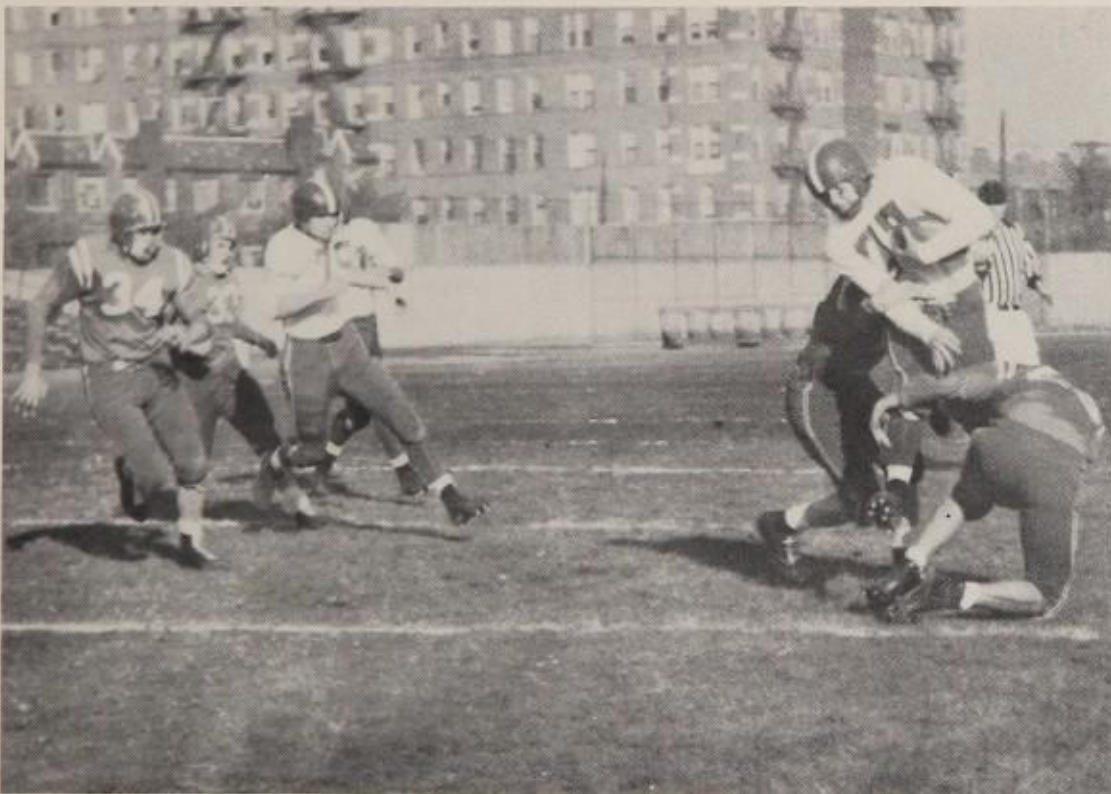

St. Francis 33 — Stepinac 14

Two weeks later a slightly overconfident Stepinac grid squad travelled to Brooklyn to attempt to clinch the Catholic High School Football League title. However the terrible Terriers from St. Francis Prep caught the Knights off guard and sent them home in utter defeat.

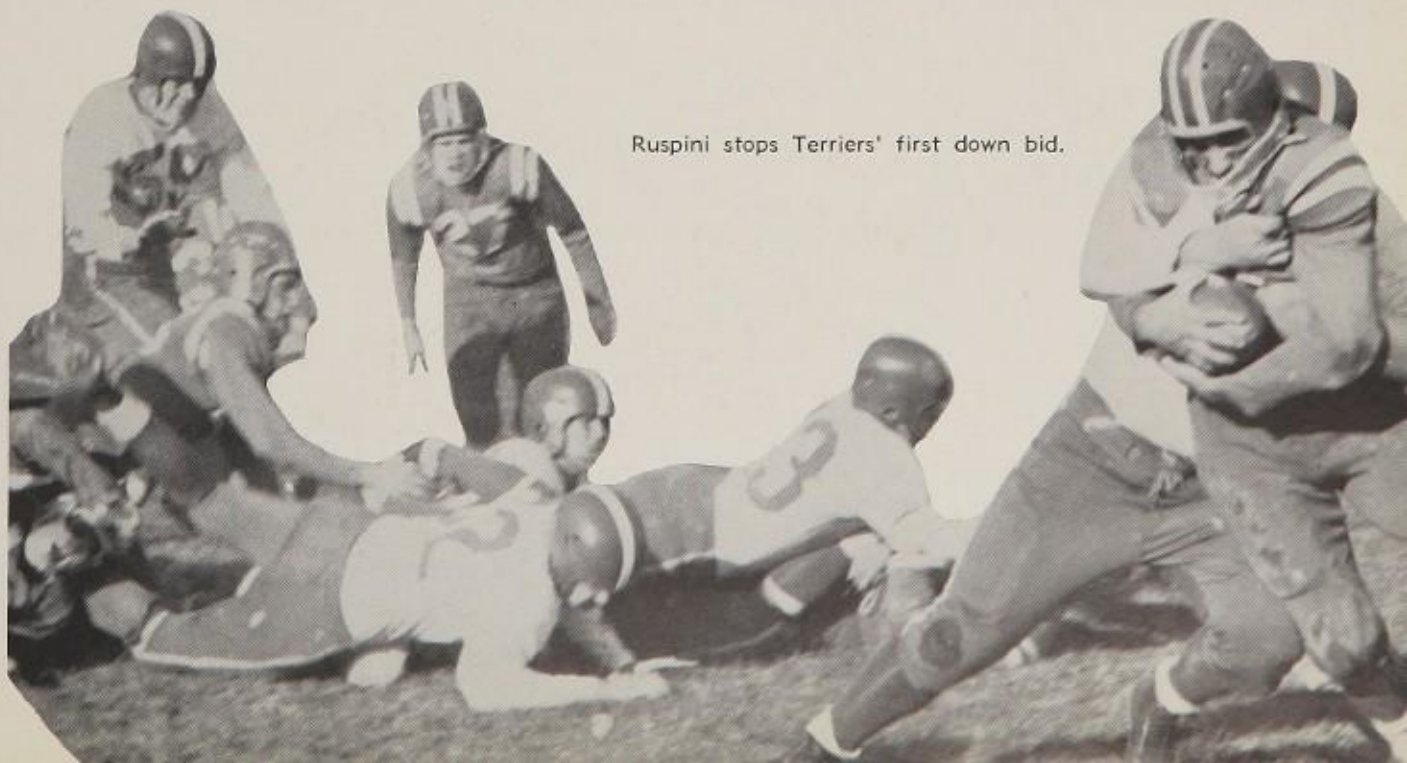

After they jumped to a 7-6 lead by way of Choquette's touchdown and extra point, Crusader victory seemed imminent. But the deft passing and running of Prep quarterback Tom Doherty and the lightning fast end runs of Ray Ratkowski soon put Stepinac behind. Fumbleitis frustrated the Crusaders even further. In the final quarter the Knights started to click when Davis tossed a 13 yard pass to Marklay for a score, but it was too late for them to recover.

Stepinac 24 — Mount St. Michael's 19

After the loss to St. Francis, Stepinac had to win their remaining two league games to gain a tie in the CHSFL. They next encountered the Mount in the most thrilling game of the year.

The Crusaders battled to an 18-6 lead on a pair of touchdowns by Choquette and another by Tony Ciccone. However the missing of extra points nearly proved disastrous in the final quarter as the Mounties took to the air and scored twice. With 75 seconds left in the game they led 19-18. Then Davis manifested his superb quarterbacking qualities. With a minute left he hurled a fantastic pass to Choquette, who, surrounded by three Mount defensemen, caught the pigskin on the six yard line. Two plays later Davis threw another perfect jump pass which Marklay snatched in the end zone with ten seconds remaining in the contest.

Stepinac 25 — Chaminade 6

A capacity crowd of alumni, parents and students witnessed the final game of the season in which the Knights defeated the Chaminade Flyers and tied St. Francis Prep for the CHSFL championship.

The Crusaders scored early in the game. After Choquette electrified the crowd with a 56 yard gallop up the middle of the field, the Knights pushed to the 13 yard marker. Then Davis launched a spiral to Mark-lay for six points. Moments later a Flyer fumble set up the second Stepinac touchdown and Kerwin bulled over from the one.

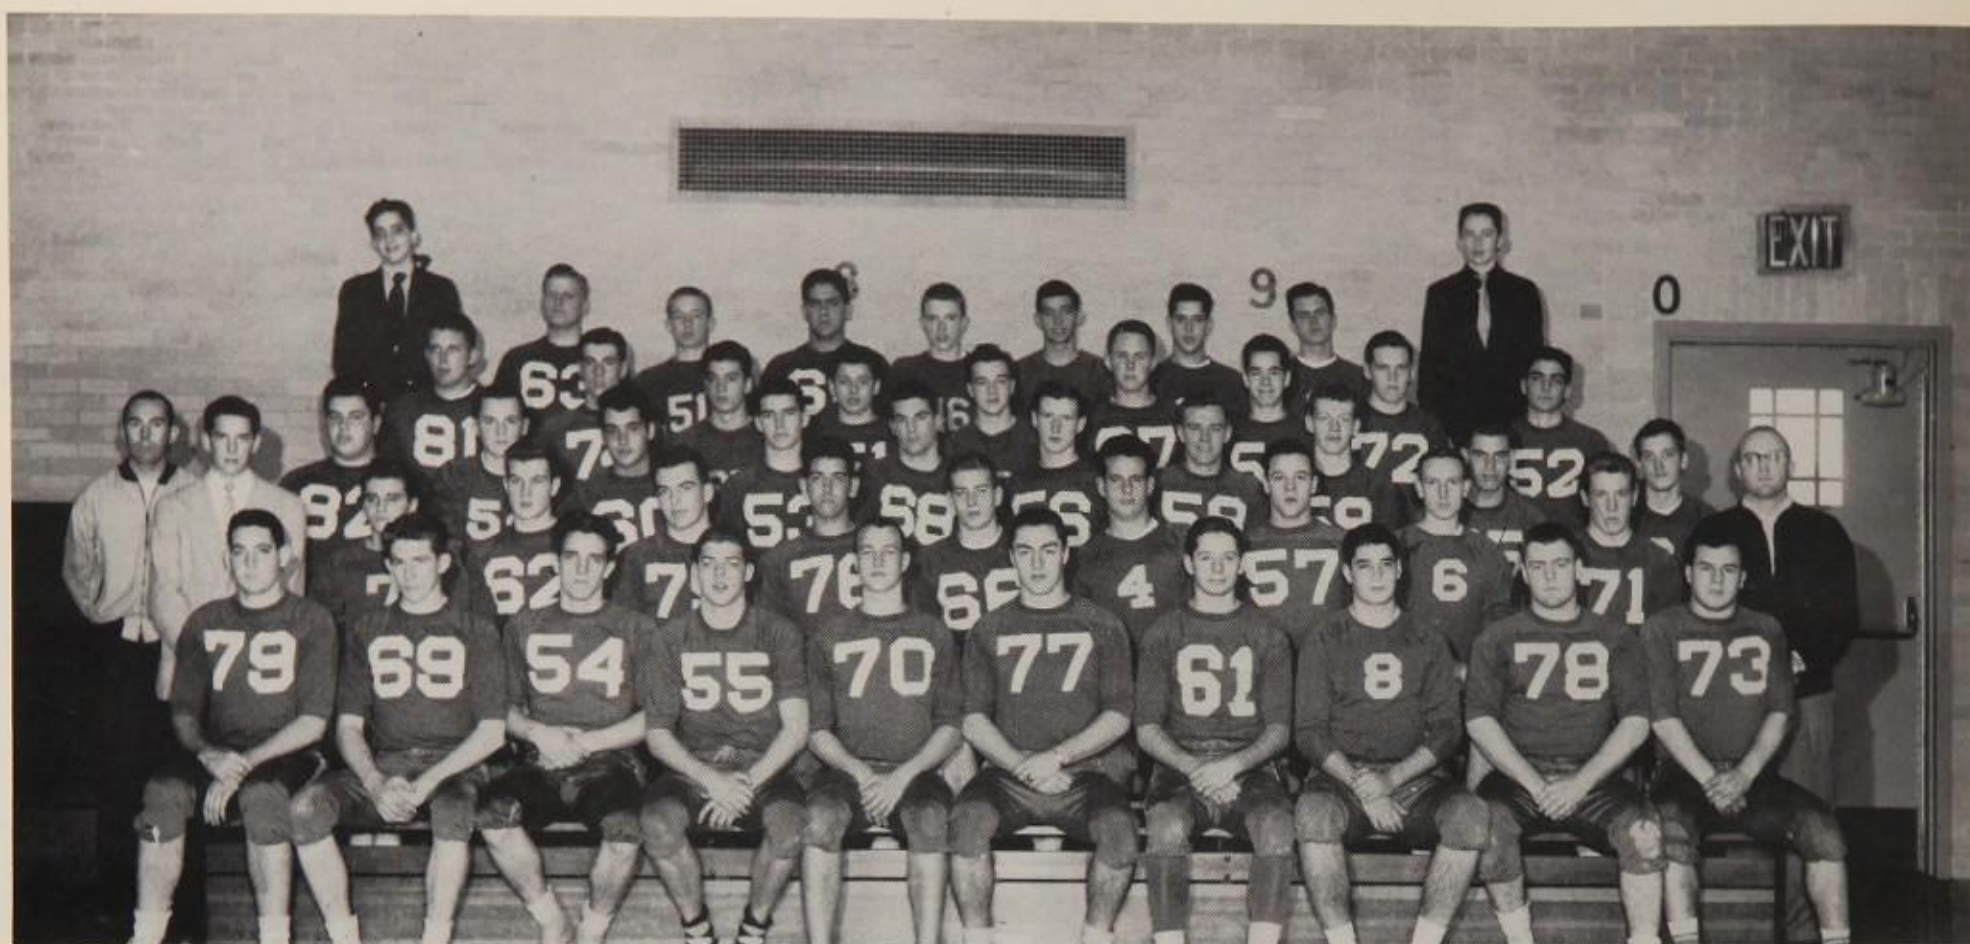

After another Chaminade fumble in the third quarter, Davis threw a 42yard touchdown pass to Choquette. Later in that period Kerwin culminated a 62 yard drive by bucking over the goal line for the final Crusader score of the year. As the score was 25-0, Coach Werder emptied his bench and the substitutes held the Flyers scoreless until the final seconds when the visitors' left halfback, Bill LaBorne, scored from the three yard line.

Hampered by lack of veterans, the outlook for the 1955 season appeared grim. Prior to the Aquinas game, the chances of winning a single game seemed poor and the attainment of the Catholic High School Football League championship was expected by none. The opening game in Rochester proved the pre-season predictions to be wrong. Possibly the upstate team could have been defeated were it not for the fact that Choquette's 94 yard touchdown run was called back. This penalty eventually gave Aquinas the winning touchdown and was definitely a moral blow to the Knights.

With successive victories over Fairfield and Hayes, student interest surged. Students and friends flocked to witness the downfall of Iona. But in the two weeks interval before the St. Francis Prep tilt complacency infiltrated into the team and the school. Few students bothered to make the trip to Brooklyn and this lack of interest was partially responsible for our only loss in the CHSFL. A cloud of gloom hovered over Stepinac until the Crusaders courageously battled to conquer the Mount in the final moments of the game. This victory made the 1955 season unique in Stepinac history as it was the first time that the "Big Three"—Hayes, Iona and Mount fell victims to a Stepinac football team. Chaminade was the final hurdle to be jumped before the dream of a tie for the CHSFL title would be a reality and on Thanksgiving Day the Flyers were sent home to Long Island in complete defeat. As the victors carried Mr. Werder off the field, all the splendor and glory of the best football season in Stepinac history was evident.

Bill Choquette downed by Mount defensemen.

Playing an abbreviated season due to scheduling and weather difficulties, Brother Lucas' Junior Varsity football team turned in a fine record of three wins and one loss.

Lead by star quarterback Bill Plunkett, the J. V. Team turned back Iona Prep 13-12 in the opener. After two long runs and a faked pass, Plunkett lugged the pigskin over left end for the first touchdown of the season. The placement was wide. Iona came back with a score in the second period, but the placement was blocked by the alert Stepinac defense. In the third period, end Joe Malasardi recovered a fumble on the Iona 10. George White bulled over for the score and Plunkett passed for the winning extra point. Iona came back for a touchdown in the last quarter, but after the Crusaders received the return kickoff they put the ball deep into the Iona territory as the game ended.

Stepinac suffered its lone defeat of the season at the hands of the New Rochelle J. V. team. The Purple Wave scored two quick touchdowns in the first quarter and one in the second and were then just satisfied to hold Stepinac to that score. The brightest spot for the losers was the running of Bud Kinderman who would have gone all the way several times if he had had a few key blocks.

The little Crusaders scored in every period as they rolled over St. Mary's of Greenwich 25-14. Brian Collins and Bud Kinderman each chipped in two touchdowns for the winners. A lateral by Bill Plunkett just as he was being hit to Kinderman set up the first score. Collins bulled over for the touchdown and followed soon after with another before St. Mary's scored on a 65 yard drive. St. Mary's scored again in the third period to lead briefly 14-13. Soon afterwards, however, Kinderman went 70 yards to put the game on ice.

The little Crusaders finished the season with a 25-0 romp over Mount St. Michael's J. V. team. After a stalemate in the first period, the Stepinac team erupted for 19 points on a line smash by Collins, a pass to Harry Clark, a shoestring catch by Bill Choquette and a conversion by George Ciaramella. Bud Kinderman ran 69 yards in the last period for the final tally.

Outstanding for their line play throughout the season were tackles Don Noonan and Tom Griffin, guards Terry O'Neil and Bob Pesce, ends Clark and John Shea and center Frank Ignac.

As the years drift slowly along, Stepinac track and cross country teams rapidly approach the pinnacle of perfection.

This year's cross country team was the finest in the school's history. Juniors George Verdisco, Fred Christiansen, Joe Groccia, Jack Casson, and Bill Simons, sophomore Tom Dempsey, and Senior Dick Weis, Bill Walsh, Bob Swanson, and Jim McGarry composed the varsity squad that remained undefeated in Westchester and copped their two dual meets.

The thinclads launched their season on September 27 by defeating Sacred Heart 21-34 as George Verdisco copped first place honors and four other Crusaders finished in the first seven positions. Verdisco led the Crusaders the next week when the varsity traveled to Philadelphia and beat Kendrick High and Archbishop Prendergast.

On October 8 the hill and dalers successfully defended their Westchester Coaches' meet title. Verdisco crossed the finish line second and the other nine varsity men finished among the top 25 runners as they won the meet for the third consecutive year. Three days later they defeated St. Francis Prep in a dual meet at Van Cortlandt Park. Verisco, Christiansen, and Groccia tied for first in a dead heat.

The Knights lost their first meet on October 15 when they placed fourth among 45 schools in the New York University meet. A week later they firmly established their county supremacy as they beat 12 schools in the Iona Invitational run at Tibbetts Brook Park. Verdisco took second spot behind John Hoar of Sacred Heart, and Christiansen, Groccia and Weis captured the next three positions.

Stepinac's harriers topped a field of 16 schools in the Bronx - Manhattan - Westchester championships. Verdisco won the individual crown and set a school record of 13:42 for the 2½ mile Van Cortlandt course. In the Eastern Interscholastic Championships the Knights were runner-ups in the field of 92 schools. They outran the Nott Terrace and Chaminade squads, who previously had defeated them in the N. Y. U. Meet.

Hoddinott hurdles to a new school record.

The wind and rain of November 5 dampened the Crusaders' chances in the Catholic championships at Van Cortland Park. With Verdisco and Casson slipping on the muddy course they were only able to take fifth in the final meet of the season. The overall record: 6 victories—3 trophies, one second place, a fourth, and one fifth position.

The track team inaugurated the indoor season by finishing sixth in the Catholic Relay Carnival as Paul Choquette placed second in the shot put and the sprint medley team of Sal D'lanni, John Sullivan, Al Hoddinott and Dick Weis picked up two points in fourth position. Hoddinott placed fourth in the high hurdles in the Bishop Loughlin games the following week.

The Crusaders lost their first dual meet in two years to Mount St. Michael's. The outcome of the meet depended upon the six lap relay, but the Stepinac team fell twice on the sharp turns.

Thirds by Hoddinott and Choquette in the hurdles and shot put, respectively, enabled the Knights to place eighth in the Hayes Games. A week later Hoddinott and Choquette again copped third places in their specialties at the New York University Meet and took sixth position for Stepinac in a field of 134 schools.

The team, capturing six first places and 43 points completely dominated the Westchester Indoor Championships. Choquette, Walt Gomlicker and Hoddinott smashed records in the shot put, high jump and 50 yard low hurdles events. Weis won the 500, Verdisco captured the mile and six lap relay team of Tom Dunleavy, Tom Harkins, Matt Strachan and Keith Ammerman was the other winner. Father Walter Murray's Freshman swept all three places in their section of the six lap relay.

A team of 13 men travelled to Philadelphia to compete in the Penn Relays, but the mile relay squad of Weis, Harkins, Kehoe and Hoddinott was the only group to bring home medals as they placed second.

Stepinac clearly shattered New Rochelle's dreams of County supremacy as they trounced the Purple Wave 74-38 in a dual meet and won 11 out of 14 events.

Choquette (far right) off with the gun.

The harriers relinquished their Bronx-Manhattan-Westchester title to Mount, 64-49. After the field events, held on Tuesday, May 8, Mount had compiled 39 points to Stepinac's 19½ and the deficit was too large for the Knights to overcome. Choquette copped the discus and the shot put events. Hoddinott won the 220 tying the meet record of 22.3 and Gomlicker tied for first in the high jump. Harkins and Ammerman captured the high and low hurdles events.

The Crusaders shared the Bronx-Manhattan-Westchester indoor crown with the Mount. Choquette and Hoddinott continued their record-shattering performances as they captured first place honors in the shot and 280 yard events respectively. Gomlicker won the high jump and the six lap relay squad of D'lanni, Ammerman, Dunleavy and Harkins copped their event.

Stepinac finished sixth in the Catholic champs as they ended the indoor season. Choquette's shot put attempt merited a second place medal. Hoddinott, sprinting the 280, crossed the finish line in second position and Dick Weis placed fifth in the quarter mile.

The thinclads moved their activities from the wooden boards of the Armories to the cinder tracks of Van Cortlandt Park and other fields. Stepinac quartets placed well in the C.H.S.A.A. relays. The low hurdles squad of Ammerman, Sullivan and Fred Christiansen whipped all opponents. The mile relay of Weis, Harkins, Kehoe and Hoddinott and the four mile group of Dempsey, Verdisco, Groccia and Simons each finished second.

Trackmen Win Catholic Champs

Climaxing the most successful track season in the history of the school, the Stepinac cindermen claimed the victory May 29, 1955 in the Catholic High School Championships at Randall's Island. This was the most impressive win by Mr. Sullivan's proteges and was easily the greatest single achievement in the school's eight-year athletic history. Posting 41½ points, the Crusaders beat out runner-up St. Francis Prep by nine tallies and also 15 other schools for the much coveted trophy.

The team was trailing during most of the meet until it was sparked by victories in the hurdles events where it picked up 16 points. Art Cortesi edged out teammate Walter Gottwald for first place in the 220 yard low hurdles with a winning time of 25.4. "Sandy" Hoddinott captured second place in the 120 yard high hurdles, running the distance in 0:16.7, and was immediately followed by Tom Harkins.

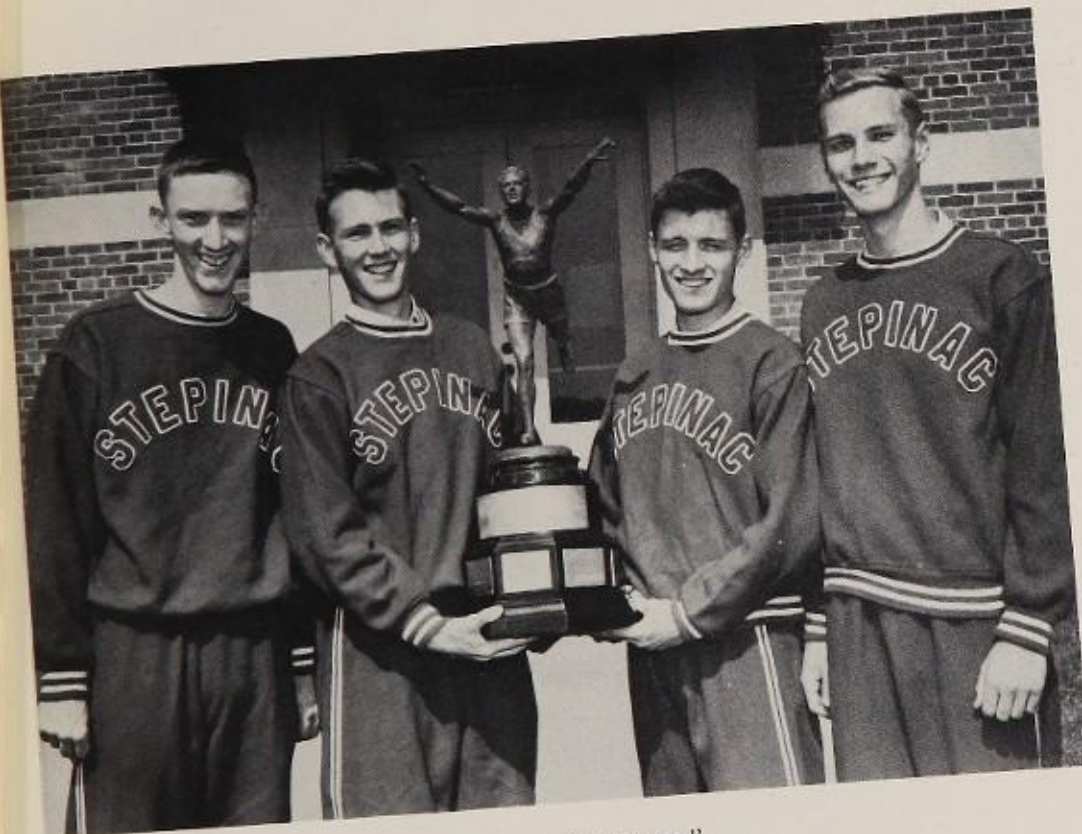

Brian Brent won second place honors in the 220 yard dash in 0:23.3 seconds.

Another second place was taken by the 880 yard relay of Paul Choquette, Dick Weis, Joe Maloney, and Kevin Murphy with a time of 1:35.5.

The Crusaders performed very well in the field events, scoring a total of 15 points. Brian Brent jumped 22 feet 6 inches in the broad jump, enough to tie Ted Cortesi's winning form.

"It's ours for a year."

Johnson of Rice for first place. Cortesi took a fourth in this event, leaping 21 feet 10 inches. Cortesi added another four points to his total of 11 for the day by heaving the javelin 166 feet for a second place.

In the shot put, Paul Choquette placed fourth with a heave of 52 feet 2 inches. He scored another three points when he tossed the discus 119 feet, finishing third best.

Fred Schwitz gained the final point and one-half as he tied for fourth place in the pole vault.

Of course this great honor could not have been achieved had it not been for Cardinal Spellman's benevolence and generosity in granting the school funds to build a track four years ago. Special recognition and high praise must be given to Brother Ralph and Brother Douglas (C.F.X.) who coached the field team. Also Father Thomas O'Keefe and Father Walter Murray should be commended for starting an interest in track during the freshman years of these boys and preparing them for the varsity. Finally, congratulations are to be extended to Coach Joseph Sullivan, who, with perseverance and excellent tutelage, has worked with the trackmen during the past four years.

Brent soars 22½ feet to victory.

Only three lettermen returned to this year's basketball squad and only four seniors were able to make it as Coach Nat Volpe wished to stress youth in the lineup and build for the future by using sophomores and juniors.

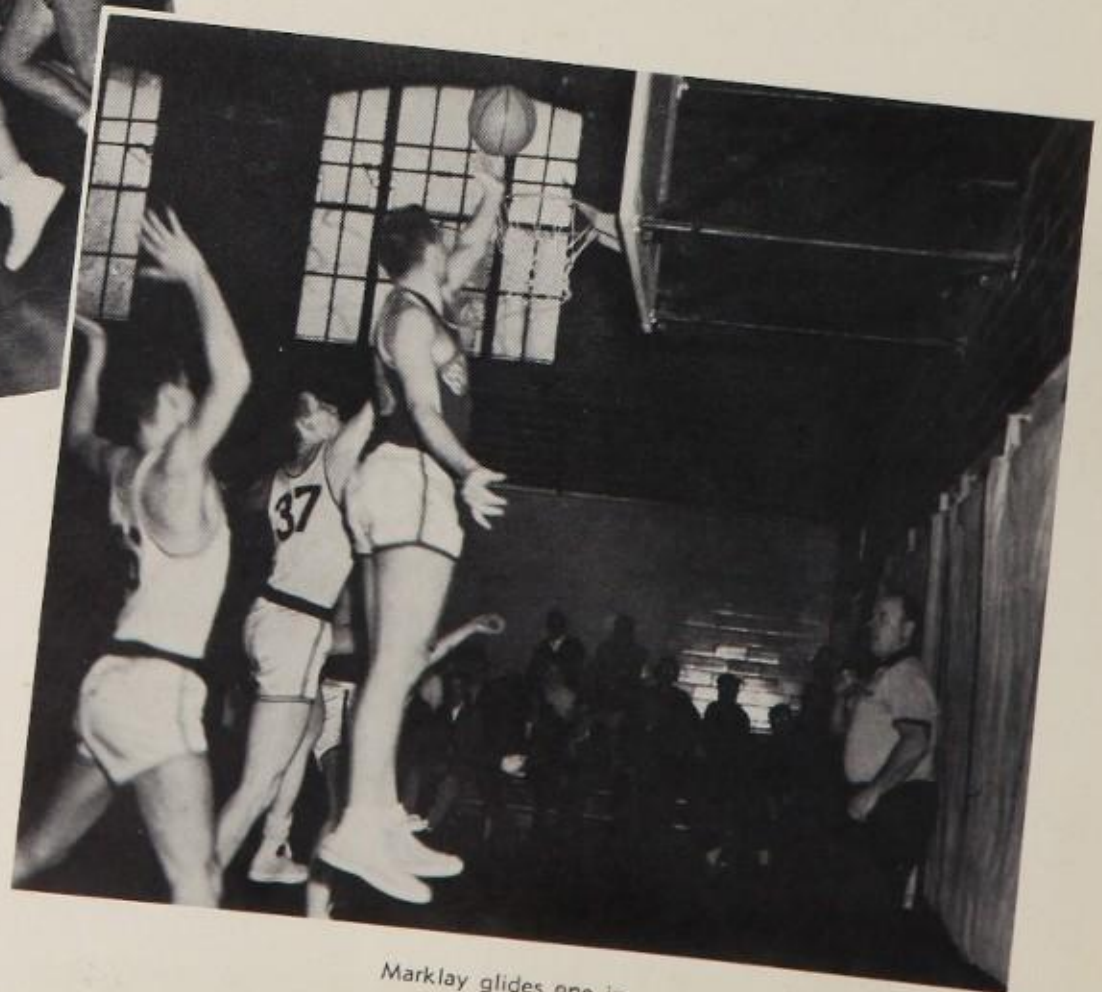

On Friday evening, November 26, the 1955-56 quintet made its debut in the traditional game with the Alumni. Past stars Dick Elston, Ronnie Semenza, and Revellese chucks from the corner!

Marklay glides one in.

Dick Carroll provided laughs and displayed some brilliant basketball before the varsity, led by Paul Kinsley's 15 points, overcame them in the final quarter and won 48-41.

A week later the Crusaders opened their Catholic High School League play against Manhattan Prep but the height advantage of the visitors led to the 69-53 downfall of Stepinac. On the following Monday, Karl Lehmann, Jack DePalo, and Paul Kinsley paced the Knights to a 56-54 victory over Fairfield Prep. During that week Stepinac dropped its second CHSAA game to Hayes, 53-37.

Lehmann and Marklay combined for 21 and 17 points apiece and sparked the 75-53 rout of Scarborough. The Crusaders then won their next two tilts with the Mount and Fordham as Lehmann accounted for 26 and 24 points respectively in each game. Stepinac led the Mount 36-21 at the half and 58-41 at the three quarter mark. DePalo, Kinsley, and Marklay then left the game on fouls and the Knights just managed to repeal the rallying Mounties as they won by a 75-70 score. Stepinac had little trouble disposing of Fordham 71-55. These were the last games of 1955 and the record stood at five wins and two defeats.

"I was hacked."

No fair using the rim.

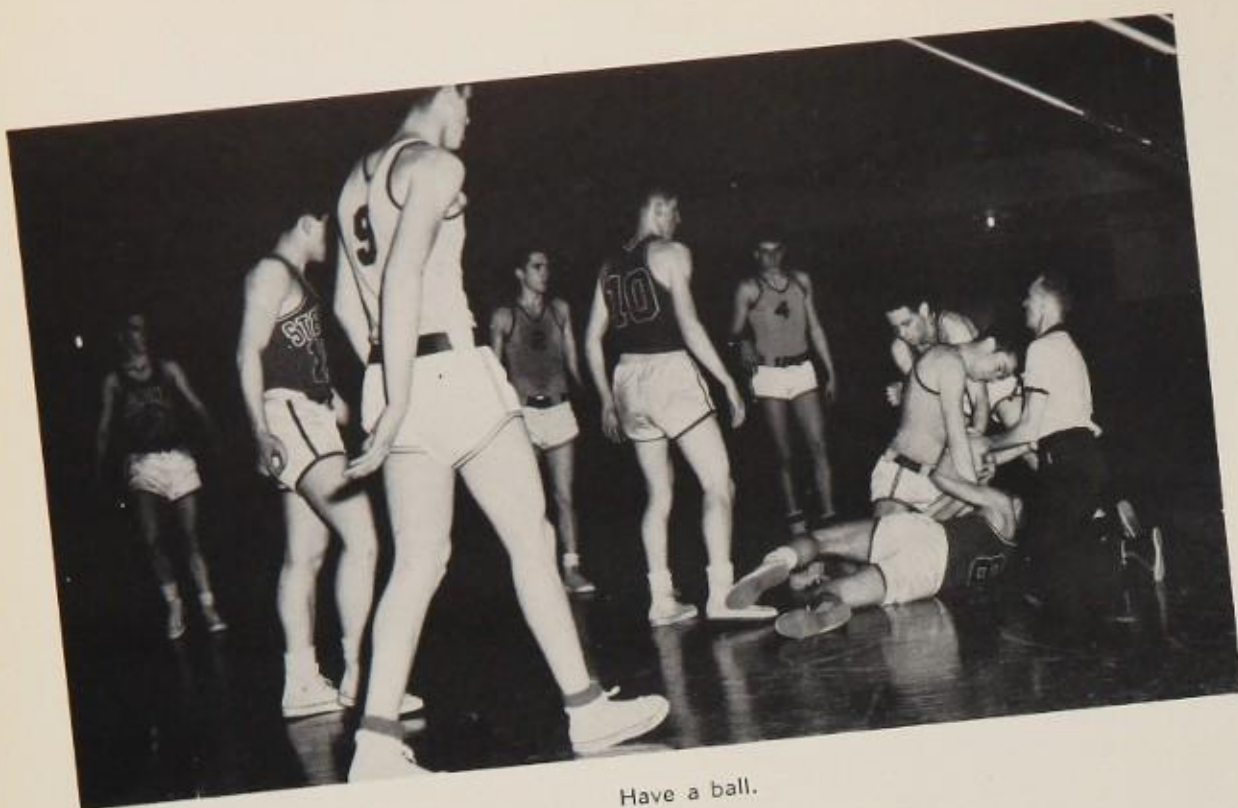

"If he'd only get out of the way."

After the Christmas holidays the cagers met All Hallows on the opponents diminutive court and were defeated 74-64 despite Lehmann's 26 points. On the tenth of January the Knights romped over St. Helena's 82-69 as Lehmann hit his season's high of 32 tallies. The Crusaders were winning 36-29 at the half but the scrappy St. Helena's team fought back and trailed by only two points at the end of the next quarter. Stepinac then awakened and bombarded the net for 29 points in the final period.

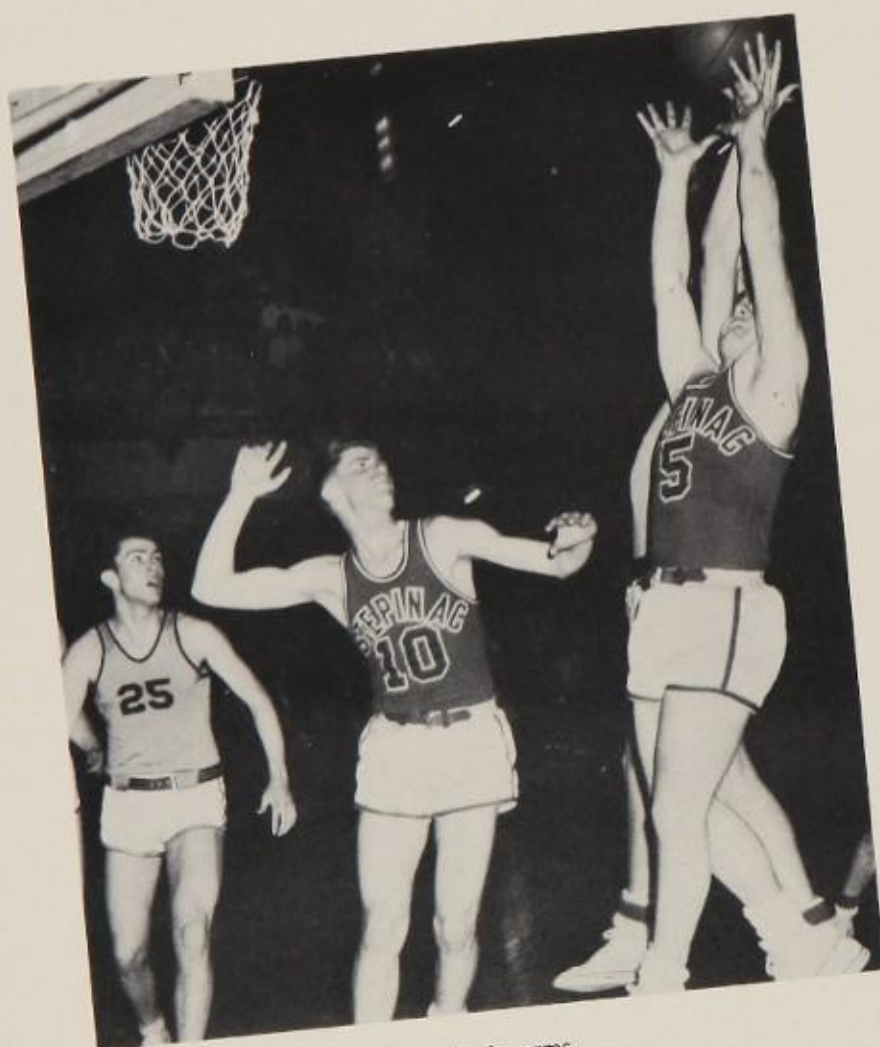

Manhattan Prep was next on the schedule. Although Stepinac was leading 17-14 at the end of the initial period, their lack of height in comparison with the lofty Prep squad accounted for their 79-52 defeat.

The Crusaders played St. Simon Stock on January 17 but the New York City team was no match for them, as Stepinac returned to the winning column with a 61-36 victory. However they lost their second game with Hayes 60-53. The Knights kept within a few points of the Cardinals during most of the game but the Hayesmen streaked out in front in the final period.

Stepinac massacred Iona 75-59 in their first meeting with the New Rochelle school. Victory for the Crusaders was never doubtful, as Lehmann, Markley and DePalo bewildered the Gaels with their splendid play-making and the deadly accuracy of their shots. On February 2 they again squeezed Mount St. Michael's, this time winning 59-5. The score remained close throughout the contest except in the second period when the Knights held a 33-22 advantage. The Mount again rallied late in the game but the fine defensive tactics of Marklay and Lehmann restrained their attack.

John Steppe, Tom Fetherston and the All Hallows squad again ravaged the Crusaders' victory skein. Steppe accounted for 38 points and Fetherston for 26 in the 87-63 Stepinac loss. Karl Lehmann sprained his ankle in the final period and had to miss the next three games. The effect of his injury was evident when an inspired St. Helena's quintet, routed in their first outing with the Crusaders, trampled them 84-58. Marklay and DePalo split 32 points but the remainder of the team had trouble finding the range.

The courtmen bounced back from their defeat by St. Helena's and whipped Ossining 80-65. Marklay's 26 points, DePalo's 23, and Maury Flood's fine rebounding enabled the Crusaders to surge ahead in the final two periods. Injury again struck the boardmen as they were relieved of the valuable service of sophomore star Paul Kinsley as the result of an ankle injury.

On February 24 disaster fell upon the cage team as they dropped their first contest to a public school since 1951. The Red Raiders from Scarsdale overcame a 51-

Kinsley grabs a rebound.

39 half time deficit as they tied the game up 64-64 at the final buzzer and won 68-64 in overtime. The Crusaders dropped their final tilt of the regular season on February 27 to Iona 63-59 after again wasting a scoreboard advantage. However, weariness from the initial game in the Westchester Private-Parochial Tournament the night before was a determining factor in their collapse against the Gaels.

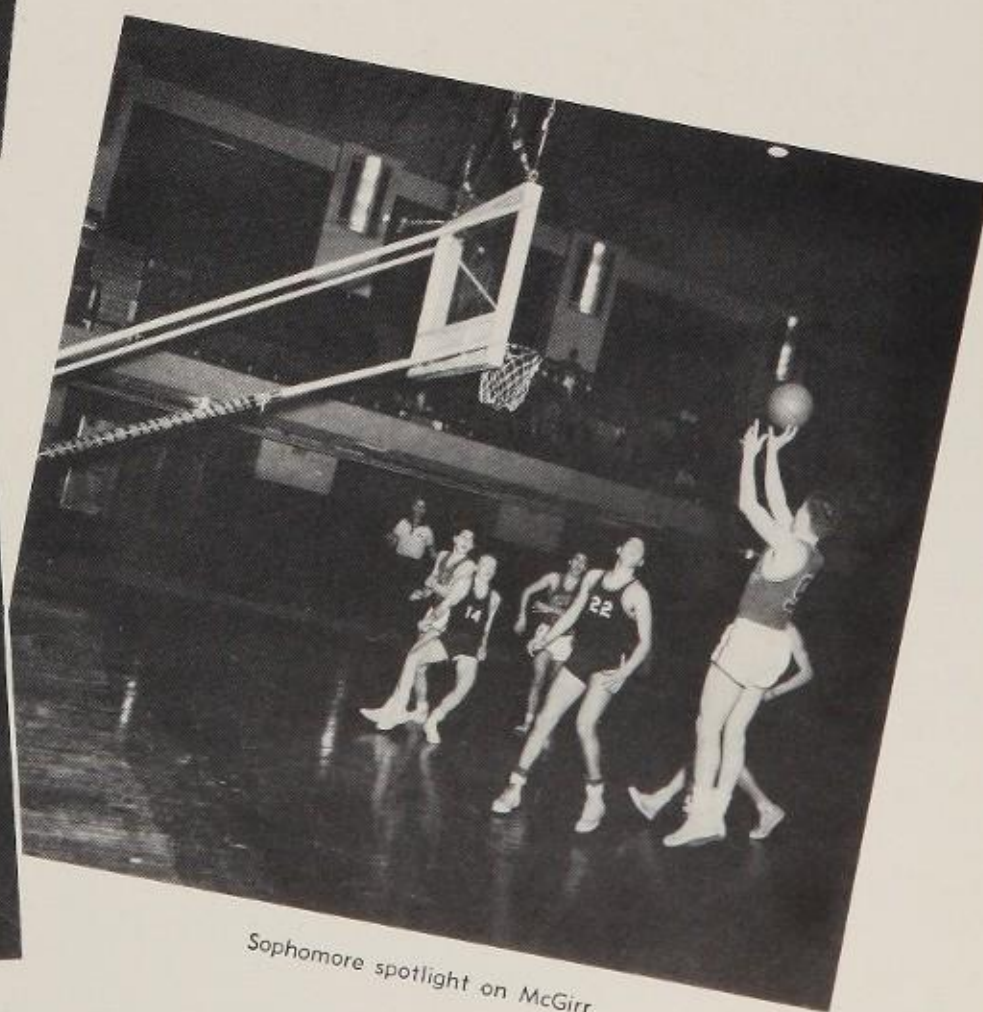

The Knights auspiciously began their competition in the Westchester Private-Parochial Tournament by overcoming Sacred Heart 64-58. In the quarter finals Stepinac successfully stopped 6' 10" Bob Jackson and the New York Military Academy. The Crusaders scored from the floor at a torrid pace and sank 25 out of 28 charity shots. Lehmann and Marklay put in 26 and 25 points each as DePalo and Kinsley thwarted the New Yorkers with crafty defensive work. Maury Flood grabbed many rebounds off the finger tips of Jackson and accounted for 14 points himself. When Stepinac had mustered a 25 point advantage in the third period the substitutes took over and iced the game 83-76, despite a late Academy surge.

Heads up, as Stepinac starts Tournament game with N.Y.M.A.

After defeating the Mount twice in CHSAA contests the Crusaders failed to suppress them in the tournament and regain the WPPSAA title. Stepinac trailed until the third period when they advanced to a 39-36 lead. Only seven Crusader tallies fell through the nets in the final quarter and Mount copped the game and the tournament 52-46. Some consolation was given to the Knights when George Marklay was voted the most valuable player of the tournament by the officials for his dazzling defense, deceptive playmaking and accurate shooting.

Freshman Basketball

The future in basketball at Stepinac is a big question mark, judging by the season the freshmen had. Off the record it was poor with ten wins and fourteen losses. But Brother Alois chose to experiment this year rather than try to build up an impressive number of wins. Finding that the material was not nearly as promising as in past years, he went along with the big men and those most eager to study, behave, practice and learn. Whether the experiment was a success or not will be known only in the next three years. But if the players continue the improvement they showed over the year and if those who were on and off the eligibility list all season for disciplinary or scholastic reasons have learned a valuable lesson, the prospects can be termed bright.

Brian Collins would get the most valuable award of the frosh players. Switching between the corner and center he was consistently the team's high scorer. David Rae, Jim McDermott and Dennie Woodman alternated as the other back court men. John Smith, Tim Smyth, Pat Grosso, Bill Coldrick and Don Hende divided the front positions pretty evenly during the season. Smyth was the most improved player on the club, developing a good drive, set, and jump shot. Dennis O'Keefe and Brian McAuley were the most promising bench strength.

On April 18, the Crusaders blanked Salesian 5-0 behind the no-hit pitching of Jim Coughlin, who struck out 17 men and walked two. Three days later the Knights dropped a close game to Sleepy Hollow, 3-2.

Crusader bats began to boom against Manhattan Prep as the Knights won 8-1. Lehmann blasted a 350 foot homer, but failed to touch the plate and was tagged out. Stepinac next met the Mount and beat the Bronxites 4-2 when Joe Bern-

GOLF

J. Camillo

This year's golf team coached by Fr. Fitzgerald, consisted of five seniors and one sophomore. Called by most Westchester sportswriters, "the best team in the county" the squad bragged an undefeated record and recaptured the Private-Parochial crown.

The individual medal of the W.P.P.S. tournament was won by long hitting Joe Camillo with a 79. He, with the aid of teammates Jon Voight (82) and Jim Gay (85) walked away with top team honors.

Fr. Fitzgerald's linksmen took on all comers and compiled a record that will not soon be equalled.

This year's tennis team headed by Captain Bob Mendel has the distinction of being the first one to win a trophy for Archbishop Stepinac. This was accomplished in the fall when points gained by Bob Mendel, reaching the semi-finals, John Fierro, reaching the quarter-finals, and the team of Mike Hannon and Jack Sinnott winning the doubles division, added up to give Stepinac a team victory in the Catholic High School Athletic Association Tournament.

This spring saw the team once again immersed in a full schedule of matches. The majority of these are Catholic League matches, while occasionally Fr. Mathews squired the racquetmen around the county to play other private schools. Stepinac once again entered the Fordham Invitational Tournament as well as other interscholastic encounters.

The netmen started poorly, losing their first three matches to Xavier, Scarborough and Fordham, but recovered to even the score by defeating All Hallows, Iona and Brooklyn Prep.

As usual, Fr. Mathews had a strong reserve. Following seniors Mendel, Marklay and Siconolfi will be juniors Sinnott, Fierro, Hannan, Nunoz, Schelhammer and Freshman Van Eyck.

This depth and a large freshman team promise a strong court squad for the future, and successful seasons to come.

SWIMMING

Coached and moderated by Brother Justin, the Stepinac mermen had a rather disappointing season. They were led by backstroker Dick Egan, breaststroker Jack Munger, freestylers Jim Flynn, and Gerry McGrath and the diving of Bob Cercena and George Robertson. Valuable support came from Don Lareau, Bob Dohrenwend, Doug Robertson, Ed Mullee, Bill Cronin and Paul Tegan.

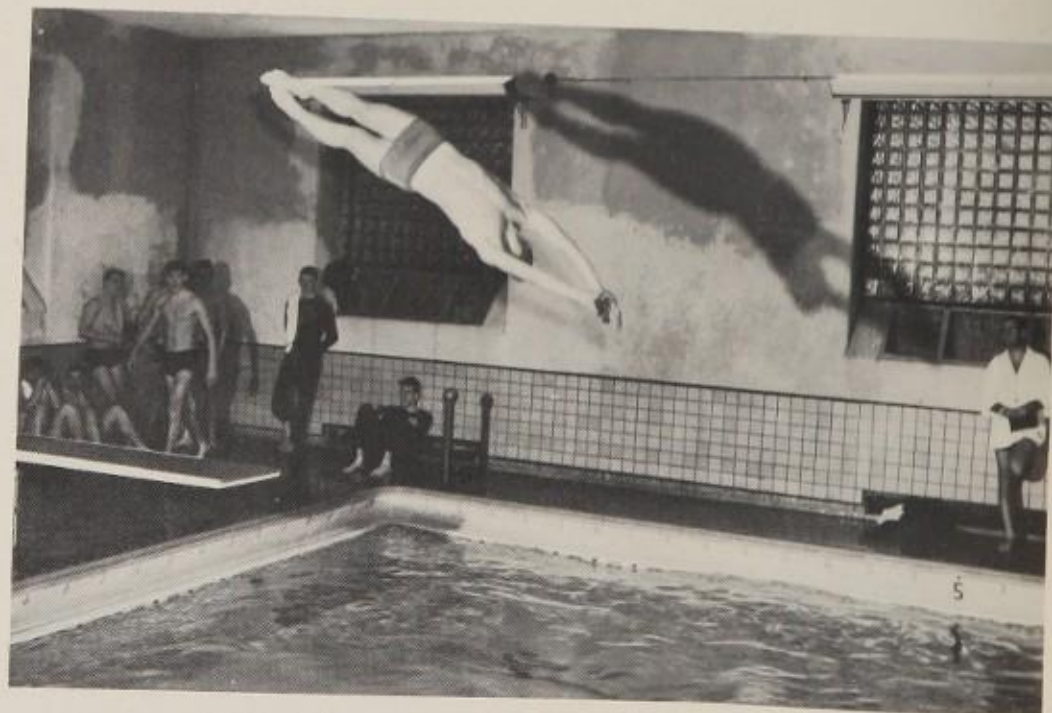

The Crusaders opened the season early in November with a loss to Bishop Loughlin. They then hit their winning stride with two straight wins over St. Augustines and Holy Trinity. This was unfortunately followed by seven losses in a row as the "wetbacks" succumbed to Fordham Prep, St. Johns Prep, Cardinal Hayes, Brooklyn Prep, St. Francis Prep, Mamaroneck High School and Iona Prep.

Relief finally came in the form of the C.H.S.A.A. Novice Swimming Championships in which the Crusaders finished second. Following the Novice Championships, the mermen bowed to Peekskill Military Academy and then defeated Peekskill High School. The C.H.S.A.A. Senior Championships followed, but the Crusaders, hampered by illness, could do no better than finish eighth. The next week brought a victory over New Rochelle High School. No sooner were the Crusaders hopes beginning to rise when in the Westchester Private and Parochial School Championships they finished near the bottom of the list.

Perhaps the main reason for the mermen's poor record this past season was the lack of adequate practice facilities. It is hoped that this situation will be rectified.

BOWLING CLUB

After the success of last year's Bowling team and the temporary absence of Fr. DiBlasi, the prospects seemed poor until Fr. Fitzgerald and Fr. Quinn took charge of the activity. The team fared well in interscholastic competition and while it lost the W.P.S.A. team championship, Joseph Mogrado of Sophomore year retained the individual championship.

RIFLE CLUB

This year the New York Air National Guard graciously granted the use of the White Plains Armory rifle range to Stepinac and the rifle team was resurrected after a lapse of four years. The decision of Fr. McCaffery and Bro. Lucas, the moderators, was that no interscholastic competition would be scheduled this year and that a developmental program for all of the fifty members would best prepare for next year.

VENERABLE GASPAR BERTONI, C.P.S.
Founder of Stigmatine Fathers, Verona, Italy

VERY REV. DIONYSIUS MARTINIS, C.P.S.
Superior General, Rome, Italy

Stigmatine Fathers

With the destruction vented upon Europe by the French Revolution in 1789, the human misery that followed pursued its usual unfortunate path inflicting great injury on those least responsible—the poor children.

A heart-sick observer of this human misery was a young Italian priest, Gaspar Bertoni. Ordained in 1799, the same time that Napoleon seized power in France, Father Bertoni, an assistant in a parish in the city of Verona, determined to do what he could to alleviate the wretchedness of the children of the city. His compassion took concrete form in the establishment of Oratories or Youth Centers wherein he fed, clothed and taught a trade, as well as the rudiments of their religion, to young boys. Realizing, however, that his work could not remain forever under his personal guidance, Father Bertoni determined to found a religious congregation to carry on his work after his death.

On November Fourth, 1816, the young priest, together with another priest about his own age, Father John Mary Marani, and Paul Zanoli, a layman who was to become the first brother in the infant Congregation, went to live in the House of Stigmata. From this beginning was born the Congregation of the Priests of the Sacred Stigmata of Our Lord Jesus Christ, commonly called the Stigmatines. Since religious societies had been outlawed by the French government in Verona, the new Congregation did not adapt any distinctive habit, wearing only the ordinary garb of the local diocesan clergy. To this day, they follow that same custom.

After a most exemplary life, Gaspar Bertoni died on June 12, 1853.

His cause for Sainthood was introduced after his death and Holy Mother Church set her seal of approval upon his many virtues by declaring him the Venerable Gaspar Bertoni in 1906.

The Stigmatines are a Religious family composed of two branches, priests and coadjutor brothers, both of which groups wear the same religious habit and follow the same rule. They are bound together by the desire to save souls, to aid the Church in the person of the Bishops and to follow the ideals and objectives of their saintly Founder. Specifically: the primary works of the Congregation—or what are called the “ordinary duties”—can be summed up in the two words: preaching and teaching.

It was in fulfillment of this secondary purpose that the Stigmatines first came to the United States at the beginning of the twentieth century. In that period, a great wave of immigrants came to his country, nearly nine millions of them. A great percentage of these people did not speak English and without priests who spoke their own language could very easily have been lost to the faith. In response to the urgent appeals of the Bishops of Springfield, Boston and New York, Stigmatine priests came here and established parishes for the newly-arrived Italians.

Through the years other assignments were given: more priests for more parishes, chaplains for the armed services, chaplains for the penal institutions of the state, missionaries for the “no-priest” land of the Southwest. The Stigmatines responded to all these requests, and in so doing fulfilled their secondary objective, aid to the Bishops.

In so far as their primary end was concerned, the Stigmatines, until quite recently, have confined themselves to educating their own men for the priesthood. Since World War II, however, they have been able to branch out somewhat in their primary field. In 1948 a contingent was sent to the Marianas Islands in the mid-Pacific to staff a Seminary there for the Vicariate of Guam. In the same year a group came to Archbishop Stepinac High School to aid the diocesan clergy in educating young men in Westchester. In 1952 a summer camp, staffed by the Stigmatine seminarians as counsellors and directed by Stigmatine priests and brothers, was opened in the Berkshires for boys between the ages of 8 and 15. Shortly after that a retreat house was opened for week-end retreats and from this same house a dozen priests operated in giving missions and novenas all over eastern United States. A year or so ago, the Congregation, despite the pressing need of men for its other projects, nonetheless generously responded to the call of the Holy Father and sent another group of priests to the missions of Thailand where they began the construction and operation of a school whose students body numbers over four-hundred—all Buddhists!

Appreciation

For the cooperation we knew despite the many intrusions we made upon the schedules of faculty members and other school personnel.

For the unfailing support we received in the frequent demands we exacted of the staff, the seniors, and occasionally the underclassmen.

For the generous financial aid which our patrons afforded.

For the patience of the New City Printing Company, and the advice given by Fred and Frank Ball, E. J. Adomilli and Bill Armstrong.

For the prompt, reliable and friendly services provided by Sam Fields and Norman Kerker of Delma Studios.

For the exceptional photography work and fine cooperation of Al Taub of Delma Studios.

For the encouragement we received from all those unavoidable moments of failure.
